

BLAST ENTOMBS 50 KENTUCKY MINERS

UNION AND GM
WILL RESUME
PEACE TALKSSTRIKE ENTERS 6TH
WEEK; ANSWER OF FIRM AWAITED

Detroit, Dec. 26 (P)—The strike-bound General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers agreed today to discuss minor grievances but reached no understanding on the all-important 30 per cent wage increase issue.

Spokesmen for both sides said the wage issue—crux of the strike that has idled 175,000 GM production workers since Nov. 21—did not figure in today's negotiating session.

It marked the first time they had conferred since their Dec. 20-21 appearance at Washington before a special fact-finding board which President Truman named to study the strike issues.

The conferees, although aware that hearings are due to be resumed before the fact-finding board Friday if no agreement is reached before that time, discussed only local grievance procedure during a four-hour meeting.

Issue Still Open

Walter P. Reuther, UAW-CIO vice president, announced that the "principle of beginning negotiations at the plant level has been agreed upon" and that they will begin shortly. He cautioned, however, that the decision to discuss such local issues between GM plants and individual UAW locals would not affect overall negotiations on the wage issue.

The conferees broke up without scheduling another meeting here Thursday, but both sides denied that this meant a general breakdown on the wage problem.

"We did not specifically request a meeting because some of our men have to entrain for Washington Thursday afternoon and GM didn't mention the subject either," a UAW spokesman said.

General Motors spokesmen said the wage issue was still open for discussion but added that the company would not make public until Thursday its decision whether to return to Washington Friday and appear before the fact-finding board.

The board, backed by President Truman, has shown some desire to look over GM's books to determine its ability to meet the 30 per cent increase but the company has not said definitely whether it will agree.

Picket Lines Revived

In prior negotiations with the UAW, the company took the stand that its books, containing evidence of past, present and future earnings are not a proper subject for discussion with the union.

The president in a letter to the board Dec. 21 said that such a board is "free to draw such inferences as it may choose from the employer's failure to produce evidence on this issue."

Reuther, at a press conference following today's session, described the Truman letter as "a victory for the principle of wages based on the ability to pay."

"We do not say it is up to the government to settle this strike but we say that the machinery has been set up and that it is up to us to cooperate with it (the machinery)," Reuther told newsmen.

Even as Reuther spoke, the UAW was manning picket lines around many GM plants again today after a Christmas interlude.

"No progress was made today that would warrant postponing the Friday meeting in Washington," he added.

President To Start Off
1946 With Radio Talk

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Kansas City, Dec. 26 (P)—President Truman will carry his labor and other legislative proposals directly to the people in a radio address probably during the first week in January. It will be a state of the union address to start off 1946.

This announcement came today from the president at his federal building offices here in a news conference. Mr. Truman interrupted a busy Christmas homecoming to go to his office where he met friends and exchanged Christmas greetings. At the press conference he laughed off a suggestion that he go back to Washington by train.

The president replied in the negative when a reporter said he heard the address would be an anti-labor one.

"Oh, no, it won't be that, it will be on the overall legislative program—a state of the union address," he said.

(Washington today reported that the president also likely will deliver his annual address to Congress in person on its reconvening Jan. 14, and that the speech may be sent by television broadcast. The president's nationwide address to the people would precede his appearance before Congress.)

The president's proposals for ending labor strife through use of fact-finding boards and a 30-day "cooling off" period while threatened strikes are under consideration was submitted to Congress recently. Much of the remainder of his legislative program has been

STORMS LET UP

Until Week End

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation may have a respite from sleet, snow and cold waves at least until the week-end.

The U. S. weather bureau said the weather would be "fairly good" over most of the country for the next few days.

The storm which brought a Christmas package of freezing rain, sleet and snow to the north central and eastern states has moved northeastward to Quebec, leaving only snow flurries in the Great Lakes region.

Highways, however, remained slippery in northern Illinois, northern Indiana, southern Iowa and Michigan, extreme eastern Iowa and southeast Wisconsin.

REAL RESULTS
ARE ATTAINED
BY BIG THREEFOREIGN MINISTERS
END CONFERENCE
IN MOSCOW

BY EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Dec. 26 (P)—The foreign ministers of the United States, Russia and Great Britain were said late tonight to have reached an agreement on all points of their discussions and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin were making arrangements for an early departure.

(The Moscow radio in a broadcast heard in London said that the conference had ended and that Byrnes would hold a press conference at 7:30 a. m. Thursday (11:30 p. m. Wednesday).)

Diplomatic observers forecast a prompt announcement of "important and definite results" concerning the conference.

Unquestionably agreement has been achieved on many main issues, these observers said, adding that the conference has gone well beyond anything that has been expected even by Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov themselves.

Progress Indicated

The air of optimism persisted here right up to the closing hours of the conference. Observers pointed out that the rapidity with which the three statesmen reached an agreement on peace treaty procedure indicated considerable progress.

The aura of ill feeling which marked the breakdown of the London meeting of the foreign ministers' council appears to have been eliminated and the Big Three are again united in the same spirit of collaboration they enjoyed during the war, informed observers believed.

Under terms of the agreement reached on peace treaties, peace terms will be drawn up by nations which signed armistice agreements with Germany's European satellites.

Tree Lights Blamed
For Hospital Blaze
Which Took 17 Lives

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 26 (P)—The fire at the Niles Street hospital which claimed 17 lives and caused critical injury to five persons Christmas eve started in an improvised wiring system which was connected with Christmas tree lights and was fashioned by an 83-year-old patient, State Police Commissioner Edward J. Hickey said today.

Hickey said he learned at a hearing he conducted in his capacity as state fire marshal that the patient, one of those who escaped from the flames, had used wire from the coil of an electric clock for a connection with the decorative lights of the tree. Two pieces of the wire were recovered from the ashes of the tree, he reported.

When a hospital attendant extinguished the tree lights for the night by pulling apart a plug and socket between two sections of the wiring, a spark ignited cotton beneath the tree and the tree itself became a torch within a matter of seconds, the commissioner said.

He had told earlier how the fire severed telephone wires almost immediately, thus blocking first attempts to spread an alarm, and by the time firemen arrived several of the 31 elderly, bed-ridden patients in the hospital were beyond aid.

Frazer Car Goes On Display In January

Detroit, Dec. 26 (P)—The new, medium priced Frazer automobile will be on display in January, Graham-Paige Motors Corporation officials announced today.

The car will be powered by a 100 horsepower engine and will have a 123½ wheelbase. Feature of the streamlined body design will be a fender line extending from front to rear.

The car, named for Joseph W. Frazer, corporation president, will be manufactured at giant Willow Run, wartime bomber plant.

DRIVE NEARS GOAL

Detroit (P)—Sale of 1,000 more $1,000 E bonds by Dec. 31 will "virtually guarantee" putting Michigan over the top in the last bond drive, Frank N. Isbey, state chairman of the drive, said.

"We're on the five-yard line in this drive," he said, appealing to those who had already bought a bond to buy another before the deadline.

Walkout Of 200,000
Electrical Workers
Appears Inevitable

BY WILLIAM NEEDHAM

Washington, Dec. 26 (P)—The government ran into delay today in government conciliation talks and union leaders declared a strike of 200,000 CIO electrical workers appeared inevitable after Jan. 5.

The union announcement followed a two-hour conference with U. S. conciliation director Edgar L. Warren, who had invited it to talk over its demand of $2 a day wage increases.

General Electric and Westinghouse were asked to meet with Warren on Friday, but he said the former rejected a meeting this week. Westinghouse early tonight announced a meeting on Jan. 2.

Prior to the Westinghouse announcement Warren said he had not heard from that firm, and that he did not know what the labor department's next move would be.

After the union conference with Warren and before the Westinghouse announcement, James Matles, organization director for the workers, stated the union executive board would meet Jan. 5 in New York. There, he said, it will exercise the strike authorization voted earlier this month by 83 per cent of the union's membership.

The actual date of the projected walkout will be set by union locals but Matles indicated the date would be coordinated and the strike will be simultaneous.

The union has demanded a $2 a day wage increase from General Electric, Westinghouse, and the electrical division of General Motors Corp.—the "Big Three" in the nation's electrical business.

Matles said negotiations broke down last week with General Electric and Westinghouse, but were continuing with General Motors. At a meeting Saturday, union representatives from the three companies agreed that a strike was "inevitable," Matles said.

Matles explained that the union was urging the General Electric and Westinghouse companies to at least match an offer of 13½ cents an hour made by General Motors Corp. although the union rejected the offer, he explained, a similar bid by GM's competitors would indicate they were renewing bargaining.

No strike will be called against General Motors so long as negotiations with that company continue, he added.

He said the strike would affect about 100,000 workers in General Electric plants, about 75,000 Westinghouse workers and—if a strike were called there—about 25,000 General Motors employees.

The stoppage would affect 76 plants in 22 states.

TURKEY READY
TO FIGHT REDSDemand For Land Gift To Russia On Black Sea
Branded "Crazy"

BY EDWIN B. GREENWALD

Istanbul, Dec. 25 (Delayed)—(P)—The semi-official news agency Anatolia said today that "for one inch of Turkish territory, all Turkey is ready to throw itself into the fire," and branded as "crazy" recent Georgian demands, prominently displayed in the Soviet press, that Russia annex a strategic 180-mile stretch of the Black Sea coast.

Anatolia's declaration reflects local sentiment growing out of an opinion expressed recently by Istanbul's conservative newspaper, Tasvir, which said "Turkey will answer no to all territorial demands and, if she is told that there will be war, she will answer 'all right we will fight.'"

The "territorial demand," published in the form of a letter from two intellectuals of the Georgian Soviet Socialist republic, Stalin's birthplace, annexed in the Moscow press as the big three foreign ministers prepared to convene.

An area reaching 180 miles southwest of the Russian oil port of Batumi to Giresun, stretching inland as deep as 75 miles, and defined as "our ancient land taken by Turkey," was sought by the writers, S. R. Djanashia, doctor of historical science, and N. Berdzishvili, both members of the Science Academy of the Georgian republic.

Russo-Turkish relations have been deteriorating gradually since the Soviet foreign office announced last March that the Soviet Union was denouncing a 20-year old treaty of friendship and non-aggression and suggested that a new basis must be found on which to renew the pact.

SLAYER FACES
KIDNAP CHARGEGrosse Pointe Salesman Killing Admitted By AWOL Soldier

Grand Haven, Mich., Dec. 26 (P)—Robert F. Smith, 21, who FBI authorities said confessed the fatal shooting of Roy Gordon Beh, Grosse Pointe Farms salesman near here Friday, will face a federal kidnapping charge in another case before being turned over to Michigan authorities.

This was announced today by J. Albert Wolf, United States district attorney in Chicago where Smith and Boleslaw Czajkowski, both AWOL soldiers, are held in the alleged abduction of a fur salesman.

Wolf said he would ask the grand jury for the kidnapping indictment tomorrow.

The decision to charge Smith with murder was reached in a conference here among Sheriff William M. Boeve, Prosecutor Howard Fant, and Verne Bagen, head of the Grand Haven state police post.

Fant and Boeve arranged to go to Chicago Thursday with the warrant and to file a detainer against Smith.

Under the Lindbergh kidnapping law Smith could face a penalty of death in Illinois. The maximum penalty for him in Michigan would be life imprisonment.

Eleven Convicted
Japanese To Hang
For Mass Murders

Kwajalein, Marshall Islands, Dec. 26 (P)—The hangman's noose on Kwajalein awaits eleven Japanese convicted of mass murders of American prisoners of war on mid-Pacific islands.

Dates of execution have not been set. The verdicts are being reviewed by higher authority than the military commission which passed the death sentence.

Nine Nipponese were sentenced to be hanged for killing American airmen on Mili and Jalut atolls in the Marshalls in 1943. Five other Japanese were sentenced to prison.

The last pair to hear the court pronounce the death sentence were Rear Adm. Shigenatsu Sakibara and Lt. Cmdr. Souichi Sakibara, held responsible for ordering the mass slaughter of 96 civilian prisoners on Wake Island.

Stranded Veterans
Due To Get Home
By New Year's Day

San Francisco, Dec. 26 (P)—Most of the 170,000 stranded veterans of Pacific war who spent Christmas in Pacific coast port cities will be home or on their way by New Year's Day, army and navy officials indicated today.

Even during the greatest transportation tangle in the few days before Christmas, the average soldier was being held up in San Francisco only six days.

Army officials said they expected this time to be lowered before the end of the month, which means that the total of about 53,000 here for Christmas Day and some later arrivals will have moved out before 1946.

A similar speed-up is expected from the other ports primarily as a result of a decrease in the number of arrivals by ship rather than an increase in transportation facilities to the east.

MEN TRAPPED;
FLAMES HALT
RESCUE WORKHOPE GIVEN UP FOR CREW IN DEAD END,
2½ MILES DOWN

Pineville, Ky., Dec. 26 (P)—Although rescue workers late tonight had dug their way to a point approximately 4,000 feet from where 30 to 50 coal miners were entombed, workers and relatives alike held little hope that any of the men would be found alive.

Trained mine rescue squads were balked at every step of the way by flames, gas fumes and fallen debris. A spokesman for the Kentucky Straight Creek Coal company said, at 10:30 p. m. (C. S. T.) however, that the latest rescue team to report had penetrated one and one-half miles from the mine entrance. Hope was expressed that the area where the miners are believed to be trapped could be reached tomorrow.

All Believed Dead

Indications were that the explosion was a violent one, and Daniel Harrington, of the Bureau of Mines at Washington, said it was probable that all the trapped men were killed.

Highway Patrolman Austin Hall, who reported the latest developments, said the miners were believed to be trapped at the dead-end of the two and one-half mile deep mine.

All available means were being employed to combat the flame, which apparently had been burning since the explosion occurred about 8:30 a. m.

Rescuers had been in the mine seven hours, digging through piled framing, dislodged coal, smoke and gas fumes, when they came upon the fire.

Hall said it appeared unlikely that the explosion area could be reached short of "two or three days," and that there appeared little hope for this reason that the men could be reached in time.

Mine Operator W. E. Lewis said he believed there were "not less than 30 nor more than 50" men in the mine.

Smoke Fills Valley

The explosion, which Mine Operator W. E. Lewis said occurred about 8:30 a. m. (CST) today, was so far back from the mine entrance it was not heard above ground.

Rescue crews, trained for such work, were summoned from several mines in the southeastern Kentucky coal fields. First squads entered the mine's lone exit shortly before noon, Lewis said, while clouds of smoke still boiled from the pit opening.

The source of the smoke was not determined immediately and there were no indications what caused the explosion. Lewis said the mine ranged from two to two and one-half miles from the pit entrance.

The number of day shift men was smaller than usual, company officials said, because full production had not been resumed since yesterday's Christmas Day holiday.

Miners from other shifts, familiar with the tunnel, said unless the trapped men were able to follow the fresh air course to its source their chances for rescue would be small.

Derb Harris, an employee of the mine, said he was walking toward the mine entrance when the black smoke started pouring out of the pit. Harris said the explosion blocked the only entrance and that smoke soon filled the small valley around the mine.

Veteran miners said this might be the worst disaster of its kind in Bell county history. The worst previous explosion occurred about 15 years ago when 14 men were trapped and killed at another mine near here and several others were rescued.

with the union on Dec. 10—a contract that was due to run until April, 1946—it simultaneously terminated agreements with various UAW locals.

These included issues such as seniority, lunch periods, picketing and other items that could not be negotiated easily on a national scale because of different situations in various communities.

Reuther explained that "there are a few spots left where pickets are not allowing office help to enter—about ten" and it was intimated that this was the type of problem to be discussed on a local level.

Chemists Promise Better Booze For Michigan Drinkers

Lansing, Dec. 26 (P)—An early return to prewar top quality liquor products is predicted by state health department chemists whose job it is to analyze every brand of liquor bought by the state liquor control commission for distribution in the state.

The chemists are employed by the commission to protect it by assuring good quality in the liquor purchased and to protect the public which consumes the liquor. From 15 to 20 samples are tested in the laboratory each day.

Relaxing of wartime restrictions along with competition among distillers are expected to bring "greatly improved" liquors to the market in the immediate future.

Lt. Gen. Lutes New Air Forces Chief

Washington, Dec. 26 (P)—Secretary of War Patterson today announced appointment of Lt. Gen. Leroy Lutes as commanding general, Army Service Forces, effective Jan. 1, to succeed Gen. Breton Mervill who is retiring.

Lutes, a native of Cairo, Ill., was director of plans and operations on Army Service Forces from March, 1942, until April, 1945, when he became chief of staff and deputy commanding general, Army Service Forces, headquarters at Washington.

Four Bulldogs Fail To Prevent Robbery

Cleveland, Dec. 26 (P)—A waitress who keeps four bulldogs for pets reported today theft of $1,199 in tips hidden in three cigar boxes in her bedroom.

Mrs. Emily Risler, 38, said she had saved the money during the three years she had been working since her husband's death, police reported.

The dogs, she said, were in the kitchen and barked only once Christmas night, when the theft occurred.

More than 30,000 American soldiers who died in service in World War I still remain buried in France, Belgium and England.

Writers Find Germany Being Sovietized Under Occupation Of Russians

BY RICHARD R. KASISCHKE
Berlin, Dec. 26 (P)—Five American correspondents who toured the Russian occupation zone of Germany found a program of Sovietization in progress, with veteran Communists in key posts. Industry, farming and mining are largely under control of German provincial governments, aided and supported by the Russian military government.

The correspondents toured for eight days through the southeastern section of the Russian zone—from Berlin, 125 miles south to Dresden through Saxony.

This is the first time western correspondents have been admitted into the Russian area, under an exchange plan which also will take Russians into the American zone. Five Americans, conducted by four Russians and driven by U. S. soldier-chauffeurs, traveled an itinerary chosen by the correspondents.

Treasury Official Under Taft Dead

Flemington, N. J., Dec. 26 (P)—Robert O. Bailey, 70, assistant secretary of the United States treasury under President Taft, died today at his home in nearby Cokesbury.

Bailey was a reporter in his youth for the Associated Press in Washington and covered Congress during Taft's administration.

He remained as secretary of the treasury during the early years of the administration of Woodrow Wilson and afterward became associated with the National City Bank of New York.

New Deputy Named Under Adm. Nimitz

Washington, Dec. 26 (P)—Rear Admiral Forrest P. Sherman was named today to be deputy chief of naval operations for operations, an assignment in which he will continue his close wartime association with Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, now chief of naval operations.

Admiral Sherman, who served as deputy chief of staff under Admiral Nimitz in the Pacific, succeeds Rear Admiral Richard L. Conolly, who will become deputy CNO for administration.

Time Picks Truman As Man Of The Year

New York, Dec. 26 (P)—President Harry S. Truman was named today by Time magazine as its "Man of the Year" for 1945.

In selecting the president, Time said in its Dec. 31 issue, released tomorrow, that "the greatest of all 1945's great events was the atom bomb."

The president, the magazine said, "somewhat unwittingly" somewhat against his own will, became more than any other man responsible for the bomb, its use in 1945 and its future.

Except for the bomb, the greatest events of 1945 would have been the surrender of Germany and Japan, and the greatest men of the year would have been Allied military men, the magazine declared.

Money Stabilizing Agreement Given Approval In France

Paris, Thursday, Dec. 27 (P)—The French constituent assembly early today unanimously approved the Bretton Woods monetary stabilization agreement and an American bank loan of $550,000,000.

Following the assembly's ratification of the Bretton Woods agreement and the loan, the assembly in effect approved the government's devaluation of the franc by voting, 506 to 44, to give the government authority to revalue the gold stock of the Bank of France on the basis of the new gold content of the paper franc.

Secret Service Man For 32 Years Dies

Danville, Ill., Dec. 26 (P)—James Sloan Jr., who was known to thousands of White House callers for 32 years as "Jimmie" of the secret service, died here today of heart disease. He was 69 years old.

Sloan served presidents as a secret service man from Theodore Roosevelt to Truman before returning last July 1 in retirement to reside with his mother at Danville, where he was born. He apparently suffered a heart attack while seated in an automobile, and died within a few minutes. He had been in ill health recently, members of the family said.

'Little Glass Eye' Of Jap Prison Camp Gets Life Sentence

Yokohama, Thursday, Dec. 27 (P)—Tatsuo Tsuchiya, a prison camp guard who was the first war crimes suspect to be tried in Japan, was convicted today of killing an American prisoner of war and was sentenced to hard labor for life.

The U. S. war crimes commission adjudged that Tsuchiya, known as "Little Glass Eye," along with other Japanese, "willfully, unlawfully and unmercifully beat and killed Pfc. Robert Gordon Teas" of Streator, Ill., a survivor of the Bataan death march.

The prosecution had asked the death sentence for Tsuchiya.

The commission also convicted Tsuchiya on other specifications. One was that he and another guard "brutally beat and tortured one Sgt. G. J. Lundquist," another prisoner of war. Another was that on numerous occasions Tsuchiya abused and mistreated American and British prisoners of war by forcing them to form two ranks and slap each other.

He was acquitted on charges that he beat Pfc. Fred L. Kolis and Pvt. Vincent P. Vigil.

Jewish Immigration In Palestine Stops

Jerusalem, Dec. 26 (P)—A spokesman for the Jewish agency said tonight that Palestine government had confirmed officially that Jewish immigration into Palestine had been stopped completely.

The spokesman asserted that "the world had been misled" by the statement of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin on Nov. 13 in which he said immigration would continue at the rate of 1,500 a month pending the report of the British-American commission of inquiry.

Earlier, leaflets distributed here asserted that several hundred Jewish refugees from Europe landed on the northern Palestine coast today, despite British precautions, and were guided to inland dispersal points by Haganah, Jewish organization.

Briefly Told

Not Same Girl — The Allene Hamm, nurse at St. George's hospital, Chicago, whose picture appeared in a recent issue of the Chicago Tribune as an attendant for several persons injured in street car accident, is not Eileen Hamm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hamm, of Escanaba. The Escanaba girl is serving at St. Anthony hospital, Rockford, Illinois and is now visiting her parents here.

Injured In Fall — Mrs. Martin Lyons, about 70, of 209 North 10th street, suffered a back injury yesterday morning when she fell on the stairs in her home. She was removed to St. Francis hospital where examination disclosed that there were no fractures. No visitors will be allowed for several days.

Choir On Air — The First Presbyterian church choir will broadcast a 15-minute program of music tonight at 8:15 over the Escanaba radio station hookup.

Old Time Dance — An old time dance will be held at the Escanaba recreation center tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock, with music by Ed Hendrickson's orchestra.

WEDDED 70 YEARS

Lansing, Dec. 26 (P)—Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Strickland, negro couple born in slavery in Georgia, will celebrate their 70th wedding anniversary here Thursday. The couple were married when Strickland was 19 years old and Mrs. Strickland was 14.

They are the parents of 19 children, and have 75 grand children, 75 great grandchildren and six great great grandchildren.

Robert Klimetz At Bucknell University

Lewisburg, Pa. —Apprentice Seaman Robert J. W. Klimetz, of 1011 Sheridan Road, Escanaba, has been assigned to the Navy V-5 Unit at Bucknell University, Lt. O. E. Dunckel, commanding officer, announced recently.

Three hundred and fifty-one trainees are studying at Bucknell this term under the Navy college training program, established at the University in July, 1943. The trainees stationed with the unit are for the most part aviation candidates.

In addition, more than 1,000 civilian students, including 700 women, are enrolled at Bucknell this fall. Approximately 200 of these are ex-service men and women. The University's total enrollment is the greatest in the 99-year history of the college.

Klimetz entered the service in July. He is a graduate of the Escanaba senior high school.

Liquor Places To Close Later Jan. 1

Liquor establishments in Michigan will be permitted by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission to stay open until a later hour Jan. 1, 1946, unless otherwise prohibited by local ordinance.

The Commission has ordered the rule prohibiting the sale and serving of alcoholic beverages after 2 a. m. be suspended for the purpose of permitting such sales and service until 4 a. m. Tuesday, Jan. 1, with the usual half hour for clearing the premises from 4 to 4:30 a. m.

One airline prints its menus on postcards, enabling you to mail it to your friends to show what you have been eating in the air.

Mrs. Eva Cross Is Taken By Death On Thursday Morning

Mrs. Clarence Cross, 33, died at St. Francis hospital at 12:05 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Cross was born, Eva Walker, on January 4, 1912 in Escanaba and went to school here.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Walker, of this city and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Herman (Faye) Groff and Mrs. Winne Britton of Escanaba, John, Leon and Earl Walker and Miss Inez Walker of Detroit.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home to be prepared for burial and funeral arrangements will be completed today.

Truman Visits His 93-Year-Old Mother

Grandview, Mo., Dec. 26 (P)—With only a few friends at his side, President Truman tonight spent a quiet, old-fashioned evening at the home of his 93-year-old mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman.

The mild-mannered Missourian left the "Little White House" at nearby Independence, Mo., this evening, told reporters he was going, "to see my mother," and left in the presidential limousine, only the ever-present two cars of secret service men accompanied the president on the trip to Grandview.

The return trip to his mother's home capped a day in which he had held a news conference, attended a luncheon in Kansas City, and smilingly posed for photographers with an armful of Christmas bundles.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

STEVE: "How was the hospital dinner, Judge? Sorry I couldn't get there."

OLD JUDGE: "Very interesting, Steve. One of the doctors on the staff read a paper on the research work that is going on at one of the big universities where they are studying chronic alcoholism."

STEVE: "I'd like to have heard that, Judge."

OLD JUDGE: "He pointed out that approximately 95% of the people who drink do so sensibly. Only 5% abuse the privilege oc-asionally and included in that 5% is the very small number known as alcoholics. Then he quoted a doctor from a famous university who said 'Alcoholics are sick persons and, if treated as such, may be cured.' Alcoholism, he said, is not caused by alcohol but by deep-rooted emotional derailments which can be prevented by education and often cured through modern psychology!"

STEVE: "That's the most sensible approach to the problem I've heard."

Babson Makes Business Forecast For New Year

1946 In A Nutshell

Bonds:	Steady	Foreign Trade:	Competitive
Building:	Increased	Labor:	More Strikes
Commodity Prices:	Mixed	Real Estate:	Higher
Cost of Living:	Higher	Retail Sales:	Values Up
Total Business:	Lower	Re-Conversion:	Increased
Inflation:	Evident	Stocks:	Higher
Farm Prices:	Uncertain	Taxes:	Lower
Politics:	President to take		middle-of-the-road

By ROGER W. BABSON

1. The great event of 1945 was the ending of World War II. A great event of 1946 will be the start at harnessing atomic energy to bring about a new industrial era.

General Business

2. A year ago the United States Babsonchart Index of the Physical Volume of Business finally registered 145. Today it is estimated at 128 justifying my forecast of a year ago. The Canadian Babsonchart Index of the Physical Volume of Business finally registered 205 a year ago; today it is estimated at 190. 1946 will show a further over-all decline in both United States and Canadian business. Furthermore, most of the following comments apply to both countries.

3. The re-conversion of industry from war to peace business will increase during much of 1946. However, time required for reconversion will not be as great as most people believe.

4. Inventories, quoted both at their price values and their volumes, will increase during 1946. Both raw material piles and manufactured goods will be larger.

Commodity Prices

5. Some rationing may continue through most of 1946; but it will rapidly be eliminated. Price restrictions will gradually be lessened.

6. The retail prices of most manufactured products will be higher during 1946 than at present. The prices of some of the food products may decline.

7. The unit sales of some department stores will begin to decline some time during 1946; but the sales of the food and variety chains may continue at peak figures.

8. The great question mark of 1946 will be how, to whom and at what price the government will dispose of its billions of dollars worth of unneeded supplies.

Farm Outlook

9. Pending a weather upset, more bushels of corn and wheat and more bales of cotton will be raised in 1946 than ever before in our history. Although some prices may slide off, the total farm income for 1946 should hold up fairly well.

10. There should be an increase in certain fruits, fish products and vegetables with a decline in prices. The U. S. will have more to eat in 1946 than in 1945. The per capita consumption should be 10 per cent above the prewar level of 1935-1939.

11. Dairy and poultry products will continue to increase in volume with no increase in price. There will be a great surplus of eggs; but fats, sugar and some canned goods will continue short.

12. Farmers will start in 1946 to work to extend legislation on their parity program due to fear of a postwar collapse in farm prices.

Taxes

13. Taxes will not be increased during 1946; and there may be further reductions. Some nuisance taxes will be eliminated altogether.

14. The Federal Debt will continue to increase during 1946, but I expect no War Bond Drives.

15. Whatever is done about taxes, the cost of living will continue to rise during 1946 due largely to increased wages.

16. Providing jobs for returning soldiers at satisfactory wages will be the big political task of 1946. There will be jobs for all, but not at the wages desired.

Retail Sales

17. The volume of retail sales will be about the same as in 1945. Sales of ladies' apparel and general luxuries will suffer, but many items now unavailable will be purchased.

18. The total dollar retail sales should exceed 1945 with an increased demand for woolen and cotton textiles.

19. There will be a great demand for men's clothing and especially for shirts with honest standard length "tails."

20. Wise shoppers will buy only what they need and not grab to stock up unnecessary supplies.

Foreign Trade

21. The United States will own over 50 per cent of the world's shipping in 1946.

22. We will make England and some other countries loans provided they will agree to spend a fair proportion of the money in the United States.

23. Both the British Empire and Russia will keenly compete for foreign trade during 1946; but cartels and government monopolies will be frowned upon.

24. Russia, Germany and England may try to "gang up" against the United States but we will fearlessly oppose such actions if they occur.

Labor

25. The Little Steel Formula will be forgotten during 1946. The year will be noted for strikes and labor troubles.

26. Industrial employment during 1946 will be off both in hours and in pay rolls, labor leaders' efforts notwithstanding.

27. Many industries, now operating on a forty-eight-hour week, will return to a forty or forty-five-hour week during 1946.

28. Hourly wage rates will increase, but "take-home" income will be less. Labor will demand better management and closer labor-management relations.

Inflation

29. The Inflation Era which I have been forecasting for several years will be very evident in 1946. The purchasing power of the dollar will continue to decline.

30. Both wage and price controls will gradually be removed during 1946 until the government throws up its hands and lets nature take its course.

31. Some time after 1946, production will catch up with consumption, people will have spent their money and then there will be a surplus of goods. By 1950 there may be much unemployment. Then may come the severest inflation by Congress attempting to check the decline by printing currency. But this is something we need not worry about for two or three years.

32. If Stalin's health continues good, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1946 and may be a factor in determining world prices as well as production. The markets may even witness a "communist scare" during 1946; but they should recover soon thereafter.

Stock Market

33. The rails will decline some time during 1946. Certain airplane manufacturing, shipbuilding and other war stocks may decline; but the Dow-Jones Industrial Average will reach higher figures some time during 1946 than at present.

34. The safest stocks to buy—considering value, income and safety—will continue to be the merchandising stocks, especially chain store stocks.

35. 1945 saw a large increase in the demand for inflation stocks with a lesser demand for non-inflation stocks; but 1946 should witness both groups moving more or less together. Switching has been over-done in many cases.

36. Stock markets will continue to witness creeping general inflation, although the stock market as a whole may appear to have reached its peak before December 31, 1946.

Bonds

37. Although bank loaning rates should have an upward tendency, interest rates in general will remain low through 1946. The money supply is now 25 per cent above normal and government financing demands continued low rates.

38. Anticipating the expected decline in Federal taxes, 1946 should see a falling off in the price of most municipal and probably other tax-exempt bonds.

39. The high-grade corporation bonds may hold steady but sooner or later decline considerably. Whether this will start in 1946 I do not know. Investors will give more attention to diversification and staggering maturities during 1946.

40. More public utilities will be taken over by Municipalities and "Authorities" during 1946. Wise investors will consider this possibility when selecting public utility bonds. Some stocks such as "Eastern Utilities Associates Convertible Shares," in which I am personally interested, should be helped by public ownership.

Real Estate

41. Suburban real estate will be in much greater demand with higher prices during 1946.

42. City real estate should hold its own, excepting in the former congested war production areas where declines may set in.

43. Small productive farms will continue to increase in price; but large commercial farms may sell for less in 1946 than in 1945.

44. Building will show a considerable increase. Contracts will be up with advancing prices due to scarcity of lumber, cement, bricks and labor.

45. Office and residential rents during 1946 may be expected to increase.

46. 1946 may see the beginning of a real building boom. The pessimists will make little money in 1946.

Politics and Postwar Peace

47. President Truman may lose control of Congress, but he will try to take a middle-of-the-road position. I believe that all wise Republicans and Democrats should support his efforts.

48. Our foreign headaches will become worse and more frequent during 1946. What we are going through to reorganize Germany will be repeated in other countries.

49. The Latin American honeymoon has passed its peak. The attitude of Argentina will extend to other countries. Our South American troubles will increase during 1946.

50. 1946 will see more religious interest, including more church-going, than did 1945. People gradually are realizing that without a Spiritual Awakening no peace or other plans will be much good. Nations cannot be depended upon to cooperate and stick to their agreements unless they recognize God as their real Ruler and Guide.

Don't Hinder Snowplows!

SNOWPLOWERS were out Christmas night after the heavy snowfall to clear Escanaba's streets and when we came to the office yesterday morning the old reliable snow plow was biting into the snowbanks along the curbing in Ludington street.
We have gotten so accustomed to snowplowing and snow removal in Escanaba that often we do not pay attention to this phase of municipal service. However, there are cities that are not well-prepared to handle the snow problem, and after every storm vehicular traffic is impeded for a couple days or more.
Escanaba snowplows were hampered in their operations by automobiles that were left parked on the streets all night. A city ordinance prohibits all-night parking in winter for this very reason. Every car owner should observe it so that the snowplowing job can be done in the shortest possible time.

Watch Your Yule Tree

SIXTEEN persons died at a Hartford, Conn. hospital fire Christmas eve when a Christmas tree burst into flames due to a short circuit in the electrical wiring. Sparks ignited cotton decorations and the flames spread rapidly through the three-story structure.
Too frequently the public reads newspaper accounts of these tragic holiday fires and is unaffected because they happen so far away. Fires, however, are no respecters of persons or places. They can happen here.
Extreme caution is required every year in handling Christmas tree decorations in the home. It is even more essential this year because Christmas lighting sets are older. There were few new lighting sets sold this season. Many of the older ones are threadbare, the insulation uncovered, inviting short circuits. Lighted candles are used in greater quantities than in previous years because of the absence of electric lights.
It must be remembered that many of the evergreens purchased from dealers were cut in the woods many days in advance of Christmas. They dry out very rapidly in the homes, particularly if the tree stands do not permit frequent watering.
Non-inflammable decorations were scarce this holiday season, with the result that such inflammable material as cotton and paper were used to brighten the holiday evergreens. They, too, offer a constant danger of a disastrous fire.
Watch your Christmas tree closely during the period in which it is in your home. If the needles are falling rapidly, it is a sure sign that the tree is drying rapidly and that the hazard of fire is increased. Never leave your home unattended with the Christmas tree lighting turned on. And keep a fire extinguisher handy for emergency use.
A Christmas tree in the home can be a thing of beauty and family admiration, but it can also be a source of great tragedy.

Industry and Housing

ABOUT a decade ago, Manchester, New Hampshire, was a gloomy place because its Amoskeag textile mill, one of the largest in New England, folded up, and left several large industrial buildings idle.
Manchester was largely dependent upon this single industry for its employment, and so it was a tough blow when the Amoskeag company suspended operations. The citizens decided to do something about it, however, and within a few years they had attracted a considerable number of small and diversified industries to occupy the buildings.
Now, Manchester has a better industrial set-up than when it was dependent upon a large manufacturing concern. Like other cities, it now has a housing shortage, and the same group of citizens has not lost any time in attacking the problem. The so-called Amoskeag committee has made a survey of large homes that could be remodeled to provide additional apartments and has set up a financial plan to assist the owners.
In some respects, Escanaba has gone through a similar experience. Idle buildings have been utilized here to attract new industries. Now, Escanaba is also afflicted with a housing shortage, which threatens to hinder the industrial development of the community. The idea of converting large homes into extra apartments has not escaped the attention of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.
The enterprising citizens of Manchester are getting results in their battle with the housing shortage. We must follow through with our similar program here. The situation should be getting beyond the "mere talk" stage.

Holiday Accidents

VARIOUS conditions are combined to make the holiday accident toll on the nation's highways and streets the heaviest in several years.
The highways are heavily-laden with automobile traffic again, and many of the cars not in safe condition. The war is over and everybody is happy again. Folks have a lot of money in their pockets, and their spending it for fun. As a result, there is much hilarity and carelessness.

Holiday traffic hazards will prevail for another week. Drive carefully if you wish to enjoy another holiday season.

Another Winter Sport

NOT much progress has been made in this area in developing ice fishing as a tourist attraction, but some Lower Michigan communities, like Boyne City and Beulah, have done considerable with it.
Soon, Little Bay de Noc will be dotted with tarpaper and canvas covered shacks. The hook and line fishermen, comfortably seated around a small heating stove, may not catch so many perch and smelt, but they will find it good leisure-time recreation. This winter, some returned veterans will join the ranks of ice fishing devotees.
We don't expect to attract tourists, but ice fishing certainly deserves a place on the list of sports that makes winter an enjoyable season for the folks who live in Escanaba and vicinity.

Liars Vie for Honors

IN A world filled with deceit and downright prevarication, it is refreshing to follow the antics of the Burlington Liars club, which calls a lie a lie and makes some humor out of it.
In New Years day the Burlington Liars club will announce its selection for the top fibber of 1945. They will have a lot of tall tales to reveal and the winner undoubtedly will be a whopper.
The Liars' club offers a straight-forward approach to humor. It is Paul Bunyanish in character. Many of the tall tales that comprise the 1945 entries may become classics of American humor.
The Liars' club places a premium on falsehoods but the hyperbole actually serves to further the cause of truthfulness by ridiculing the lie.
The liars of the Adolf Hitler and Paul Goebbels type would never get a look-in with the Burlington Liars club because their kind of falsehoods are deceitful and vicious. There is not humor but only tragedy in that kind of lies.
The world has had its full of the Adolf Hitler liars. What we need now is more liars a la Burlington.

Other Editorial Comments

RAILROAD ENTERPRISE (Chicago Tribune)

The railroads of the country, in the next few years, are going to have a strenuous fight to keep their first class long distance traffic from going to the air lines. Those roads with alert management know this and are preparing to engage in the fight by offering better service.
The Monon railroad has just got authority to buy 19 diesel electric locomotives and 15 streamline passenger cars. The cars and four locomotives will be used in three high speed trains between Chicago and Indianapolis and Louisville, and the rest of the locomotives to speed up and improve freight service.
On the same day the Burlington railroad, which was a pioneer in the use of diesel power, announced that it is now hauling all its through trains between Chicago, Omaha, and Denver with that type of locomotive, and also it is using a large number of powerful diesels in its through freight service. Only a few local trains and suburban service on the Burlington will continue to be powered by steam. We hope the railroad does something for its long suffering suburban passengers in the way of fast diesel power, and other improvements. If it doesn't, it is bound to find a good many of its customers driving to town in their automobiles, particularly after super-highways cut through the traffic barriers of the west side of Chicago.
The New York Central doesn't go for diesel power on its luxury trains as yet, but it is ordering 22 streamline trains, a total of 420 cars. They will all be in service within 18 months. The order is the largest ever placed by an American railway.

NOT ENCOURAGING (Marquette Mining Journal)

Last week the Chamber of Commerce made an appeal to property owners for rental of dwellings or rooms to aid in relieving the city's acute housing shortage. The response has not been encouraging. Although a preliminary survey indicated that more than a dozen houses were unoccupied, none as far as the Chamber has been able to determine, has been placed on the market.
Results of the city commission's special meeting to investigate renting municipally owned property were somewhat more encouraging. There are four houses at the tourist park. Two have been rented. One is used for storage and the other is in poor condition. Two houses near the Number 1 power plant are unoccupied. A three-man committee has been appointed to determine whether these properties can be made usable. Cost will be the determining factor. If it is not prohibitive, it appears likely the commission will approve expenditures necessary to make them serviceable.
Unless an effort is made to obtain Federal surplus housing, such as multiple family dwellings being acquired by colleges for rental to veterans, early alleviation of the situation is not promising. Approximately 50 housing units are needed. Fifteen is a reasonable estimate of the number that might be made available through the full cooperation of property owners and the city. It is not expected that residential construction will begin to ease the shortage until sometime next summer.

YULETIDE
Today "yuletide" is synonymous with Christmas, but originally yuletide was a season of more or less pagan festivities

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—No gift could mean more to the nation than a new and courageous leadership for the Republican party. In the national stocking that would rate very high.

The two-party system is vital to our political well-being. In ordinary times we could worry along with two parties that had all the striking differences of those famous twins, Tweedledum and Tweedledee.
But these are not ordinary times. It is not enough today to sit back and hope that eventually the political grand prize will fall into your lap. It is not enough to count on the force of reaction to sweep the party into power.
This may explain why the GOP got such a drubbing, both from within and without the party, after the recent national committee meeting in Chicago. The so-called platform that came out of the Chicago meeting was so vague and so shaky that it would not support even a mouse; to say nothing of a large and ancient elephant.

Then when Chairman Herbert Brownell appointed a national policy committee to inject more vigor into the interim platform, he named to that committee for the most part the reactionary moguls who have kept the elephant in chains. These are the same men who have helped to lose earlier elections.
What makes this seem even sadder is that there is good material within the party. There are vigorous men and women; men and women with ideas who never seem to get a hearing. They are here in congress; they are back in the States.
Kentucky's Republican Governor, Simeon Willis, has just released a report by his postwar advisory planning commission which is quite a remarkable document. As worked out under the chairmanship of H. F. Wilkie, it calls for a vigorous attack by government and business working together on the problems of the state.

This is forward-looking. It is not just the ancient siren song of turnback to the "good old days."
In the senate are men like Morse of Oregon, Tobey of New Hampshire and Aiken of Vermont. In the house are a number of Republicans such as Charles La Follette of Indiana, Claire Boothe Luce of Connecticut, Christian Herter of Massachusetts, who are to be found on the constructive, creative side.

In fact, I believe that the raw material of a revolt within the Republican party is at hand. What is more, the party has a man who could lead that revolt. Under former governor and former Captain Harold Stassen the Republicans could take the progressive leadership away from the Democratic party.

President Truman's course has been uncertain and often confused. He is badly handicapped by the southern reactionaries who are determined to keep any program within narrow bounds.
This is the opportunity for a young leader like Stassen who is not handicapped by previous commitments and past prejudices. Yet what do you hear about Stassen? You hear that the powers within the Republican party are determined to kill him off before 1948.
Naturally they are afraid of him. They are afraid of him because he has vigor and because sometimes he is frank enough to say what he really believes. They are afraid of him because they know they couldn't control him.
They may succeed in killing him off. It is hard to be on your own in the face of a tight organization where the old school tie of cash paid on the line through the years and unflinching party loyalty count for more than anything else.
If the revolt comes, it will have to come from within the party. It will have to unseat the men and women who think the Republican party is their personal property because for so long they have put up the dollars to keep the top organization going.

Conceivably reaction might sweep the GOP into national power. But the danger is the sweep would go so far that he would end up with something very like fascism.
celebrating the turning of the sun and the consequent lengthening of the days.
The authorities do not agree as to the exact origin of the word yule. It has been traced to the Norse word Yule, "a wheel," signifying that the wheel of the world had completed its annual revolution. But W. W. Skeat, noted etymologist of the University of Cambridge, says that "yule" is of disputed origin, and that, "The attempt to connect this word with 'wheel' is futile."
Most modern dictionaries state that yule evolved from the Anglo-Saxon geol, the name of a winter month corresponding roughly to the present December. It was a season of feasting which began with the ceremony of burning the yule log (also called "yule clog, or block").
Of course, there is no such thing as a "yule tree." The yule log was a large log placed on the hearth and used as the foundation for the fire.

It is said that the custom of displaying a green Christmas tree, instead of burning the yule log, was introduced during the middle 1800's by Queen Victoria's husband, Albert, Prince of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha.
However, the use of holly and other evergreens as a Christmas decoration is of great antiquity, and is thought to be a survival of the old Teutonic custom of placing evergreens inside the houses as a refuge for the sylvan spirits from the cold of winter.
This year our Christmas evergreens take on a new significance, symbolizing the prayer of thanksgiving which rises from the hearts of all races and all creeds:
Glory to God in the highest,
and on earth peace, good will toward men.

When the city changed over from bay water to deep well water as its source of supply, and it was announced that the well water contained fluorine, many people were under the impression that they would not be required to take those periodic trips to the dentist to have their teeth filled. When they still had dental caries and dental bills they thought there must be something missing besides a tooth, and decided that all this talk about fluorine and dental health was the bunk.
Such is not the case, however. The water does contain fluorine and it is beneficial for the teeth of children. In the years to come those children who are now drinking Escanaba water will have better teeth than do their parents.

THEY ARE AGREED—Federal state and local health authorities, plus many independent studies made by physicians, are almost unanimously agreed that fluorine in the diet of the child under eight years of age will grow sounder teeth than a diet without fluorine.
Because fluorine is found so seldom in drinking water, and because its benefits are now becoming widely recognized, a number of cities throughout the nation are adding fluorine to the water. The cost is not great and the amount can be regulated to produce the desired result.

THE STATE REPORTS—The Michigan State Health Department in a recent report cited the work being done with fluorine in this state:
"A study was begun in Grand Rapids a year ago to find out whether the addition of fluorine to the drinking water will cause the same reduction in dental decay that is found in areas where fluorine occurs naturally in the drinking water.
"For the past year one part per million of fluorine has been added to the Grand Rapids municipal water supply. Apparently fluorine in the water decreases tooth decay only if this water is drunk during the first eight years of life. Consequently it will be several years before any results in the Grand Rapids study can be seen. Four dentists from the U. S. Public Health Service spent most of the year in Grand Rapids making a careful dental examination of each school child, in order to have an accurate record of existing dental conditions."

COMPARISON PROVES—The State Health Department report continues:
"A number of small cities in Michigan have fluorine occurring naturally in their drinking water. Six of these towns were chosen for a study of dental conditions of school children. These towns are Carleton, Columbiaville, Memphis, Belleville, Richmond and Fowler.
"For comparison, five towns which had no fluorine in the water supply were selected and their school children given dental examinations. These towns are Edmore, Lawton, Lake Odessa, Maple Rapids and Bronson, and of the children examined only 13.7 per cent were completely free of tooth decay.
"From the towns having fluo-

FOR THE CHILDREN—Fluorine occurs naturally in Escanaba's water supply, a factor which should improve the dental health of its residents in the years to come.

When the city changed over from bay water to deep well water as its source of supply, and it was announced that the well water contained fluorine, many people were under the impression that they would not be required to take those periodic trips to the dentist to have their teeth filled. When they still had dental caries and dental bills they thought there must be something missing besides a tooth, and decided that all this talk about fluorine and dental health was the bunk.
Such is not the case, however. The water does contain fluorine and it is beneficial for the teeth of children. In the years to come those children who are now drinking Escanaba water will have better teeth than do their parents.

20 Years Ago—1925
Solomon Greenhoot, former mayor, pioneer merchant and eminent citizen of Escanaba, passed away yesterday afternoon at Daytona, Fla., after a brief serious illness.

Two buildings were destroyed by fire at Bark River and telephone service for about 80 Michigan Bell Telephone company subscribers in and near that village was suspended early yesterday, with damages estimated at $12,000 to $15,000.
Completion of a new model snow remover, which is now being made at the Chatfield foundry, will permit Escanaba men, backing the city's newest manufacturing enterprise, to watch the machine at work.

rine in the water 38.7 per cent of the children had never had any tooth decay."

HAPPY DAY—The State Health Department report helps considerably in bringing better understanding of fluorine-containing water and its effect on dental health. It will not stop today's tooth ache, nor prevent that very necessary trip to the dentist next week—but it will assure your children of healthier, sounder teeth in the years to come.

And so the man who took a long drink of Escanaba water in the belief that he could then cancel his appointment with the dentist is certain to be disappointed, but his children will not have so much dental work done in the future.
This same forward-looking program is something every progressive city must have, whether it is a comparatively simple matter like fluorine in the drinking water, or a gigantic slum-clearing project in a metropolitan center. What is being done today will have its outstanding appearance of success tomorrow.

THEY LIKE IT—At this holiday season hundreds of persons from other communities are visiting in Escanaba homes.

And in scores of homes the visitors have commented on the tastefulness of the city water. They find it a welcome relief from the flat chlorine-treated water in their own communities. With home-town realism the local folks give them the "other side," topping it off with an expressed longing for "the good old days."
Perhaps the memory of a tasty drink of pure water and the knowledge that Escanaba children will grow up with better teeth than those in most other communities of the nation will help balance the visitor's impressions of Escanaba.

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT!) MAIL THIS COUPON and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to the ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SERVICE BUREAU, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. C., for a personal reply. Don't telephone; write as directed.

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. What has been done on the new uniform for enlisted men in the Navy?

A. Present plan calls for the proposed designs and samples of material to be sent to important fleet commands for consideration and suggestions. After comment has been received, well in advance of the exhaustion of the present supply of enlisted uniforms on hand, final selection will be made and a new uniform approved.

Q. Is a man in the Army who is 28 years of age eligible for overseas duty?

A. An enlisted man can be sent overseas if he is below 34 years of age, and has less than 36 points; is 34, 35 or 36 years of age and has less than 45 points and less than one year of service.

Q. In the Navy, what does A. O. L. mean?

A. Absent over leave.

OF GENERAL INTEREST
Q. Why is "Xmas" sometimes used instead of Christmas?

A. Its origin is that the initial letter of the Greek name for Christ is X and the coincidence of its cruetiform shape led to an early adoption of this letter as the figure and symbol of Christ. X is frequently found on walls of the catacombs. When the early Christians wished to make a representation of the Trinity, they would place either a cross or an X beside the names of the Father and the Holy Ghost. From this came the shortened form Xmas, instead of Christmas. Many think it inappropriate and undignified to use the shortened form.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN
Q. Should all wines be chilled before serving?

A. No; wines react individually to heat and cold, and the temperature at which they are drunk is important. In some wines fine bouquets are brought out by chilling. Others have their fines flavor when served at the temperature of the room or of the cellar. Never put ice in the wine glass as it kills the bouquet of still wine and halts the effervescence of sparkling wine. A 24-page booklet, "Mixed Beverages and Wines," contains information about the selection, service, fizzes and other kinds of mixed drinks. You can get your copy from our Service Bureau by sending 10 cents with your name and address.

Q. What kind of wine should be served with turkey?

A. One may serve either a full-bodied white wine such as Chablis, or else Burgundy.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Some people, if they have read this far in my series on putting Christianity into diplomacy, will have concluded that I am a nut on the question of peace. Perhaps they are right. In that connection I should warn that I belong to a religious group, the society of friends (Quakers), which tries to practice the doctrine of peace.

With that warning, therefore, I return to the fact that Christ was a man who went out and worked at his religion. He didn't stay in one place. He didn't hide his candlestick under a bush.

el. He battled so hard for his cause of peace on earth, goodwill toward men, that eventually he sacrificed his life.

He had what he thought was a great idea and he travelled day and night trying to sell it.
Now we in this country have a great form of government and a great basic concept of getting along with our neighbors. And it's time we went out as Christ did and tried to sell our American religion.

—SELLING THE IDEA—

We can't sit passive in big, ornate houses as most of our ambassadors do, giving ritzy cocktail parties for upper-crust old ladies and other has-beens. Our diplomats have got to go out and talk to the real folks that make up the backbone of the country.

This is not just theory. It works out in practice that when the people of a country are behind you, and don't have to worry about their government. Their government, even an out-and-out dictatorship, can't make war on you. The people won't let 'em.

Take, for instance, the case of Joe Stalin on 1942 and '43. He was constantly griping because we didn't start a second front against the Nazis. And in order to spur us into a second front, he kept hinting that he might make a separate peace with Germany. U. S. advisers were worried about this. But Churchill wasn't. He kept telling Roosevelt that there wasn't a chance in the world that Stalin would make a separate peace with Germany because the Russian people wouldn't let him. He would be kicked out of office overnight.

Take some other cases nearer home. We and our Pan-American neighbors have a free press and can mold public opinion. Several times within the last decade, Colombia, Peru and Ecuador have been on the verge of war. Once or twice their armies actually started to march. But their neighbors all sat round the ring, held on to their coat-tails, and fanned public opinion into a hot flame against the foolishness of war. In the end the South American generals, who were the only ones who actually wanted to fight, had to take a back seat.

—SHIRT-SLEEVE DIPLOMACY—

This took a lot of hard, skilful work. The men who did it—Sumner Welles, Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil, Padilla of Mexico and others—didn't just sit back and say they had faith that things would come out all right. They didn't merely sit around at cocktail parties. They went out as Christ did and sat in all-night conferences and wore out their nerves trying to hammer home the religion of peace. And, most important of all, they mobilized public opinion against war.

Another dispute which General Pershing tried to settle was the Tacna-Arica row between Chile and Peru. It dragged on until armies were lined up on both sides ready to invade. Finally Carlos Davila, a practical Chilean diplomat, persuaded both sides to resume diplomatic relations and go about the normal business of trade and cultural intercourse for a couple of years. During that period, the people of both countries discovered what good friends they could be and there hasn't, been any trouble since.

In other words, if the people of one country like and understand the people of another, no government or dictator or clique of generals can push them into war.

—TRUMAN'S CHRISTMAS PRESENT—

There isn't any doubt as to which present Harry Truman prizes the most among the vast collection of gifts received this Christmas.

It is a beautiful oil painting of his 92-year-old mother, by the portrait artist Jerry Farnsworth.

The painting was presented by Truman's life-long friend, Frank S. Land of Kansas City, Mo., founder and president of the order of DeMolay.

Land explained to Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, Representative Mendel Rivers of South Carolina and others in Truman's office that it was fitting the DeMolays should offer the gift because the order stresses home life and love for parents.

"We asked your mother if there was any special message she wanted us to deliver to you when we delivered the portrait," Land remarked. "No doubt you can guess what she said. She said to 'tell Harry to be careful.'"

This has become a by-word in the Truman family, and the President pointed out that his mother has been telling him that for 60 years.

"She's a great lady, Mr. President," continued Land, "and the only portrait sitter I've ever heard of who could outlast the artist. Farnsworth tells me that she sat for almost six hours one day. Finally he had to give up and take a rest."

"I'm not surprised to hear that," responded Truman. "They don't make them like her any more. She's the pioneer type that is passing out. Despite her years, she has a magnificent constitution."

MINE COOLING UNIT INVENTED

Engineer Designs Novel Air Conditioning Equipment

By RALPH DIGHTON
Tucson, Ariz. (P)—Four thousand, four hundred feet deep into the hot bowels of the earth labors a crew of miners—tolling mightily in conditions rapidly becoming unbearable.

The air they breathe is hot enough to scorch the unaccustomed human lung. It is cooled by a powerful refrigerating plant, but the heat of the earth increases three degrees every 200 feet they descend.

The face of the rock from which they extract copper ore is 136 degrees. At 6,000 feet, the planned ultimate depth of the shaft, the temperature will be 160 degrees.

"There was a time," says M. L. Thornburg, head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering at the University of Arizona, "when such conditions would force abandonment of a rich ore body."

"But the world is using up its natural resources. We can't go on abandoning good sources of raw materials. We've got to do something about it."

Thornburg is doing something. He is building an experimental cooling device to bring temperatures in deepshaft mines to as low as 72 degrees. Under his direction, a two-story model of a giant cooling tower is nearing completion at the university.

"This project," he says, "by the time the cooling plant is installed at the mine, will cost something like three quarters of a million."

"The mechanical refrigeration plant the mine is using now is reaching the extent of its capacity. We have been asked to design a cooling plant that will provide for the miners' comfort past the 6,000-foot level. I believe we've found the solution."

Dollar a Bushel For Grasshoppers

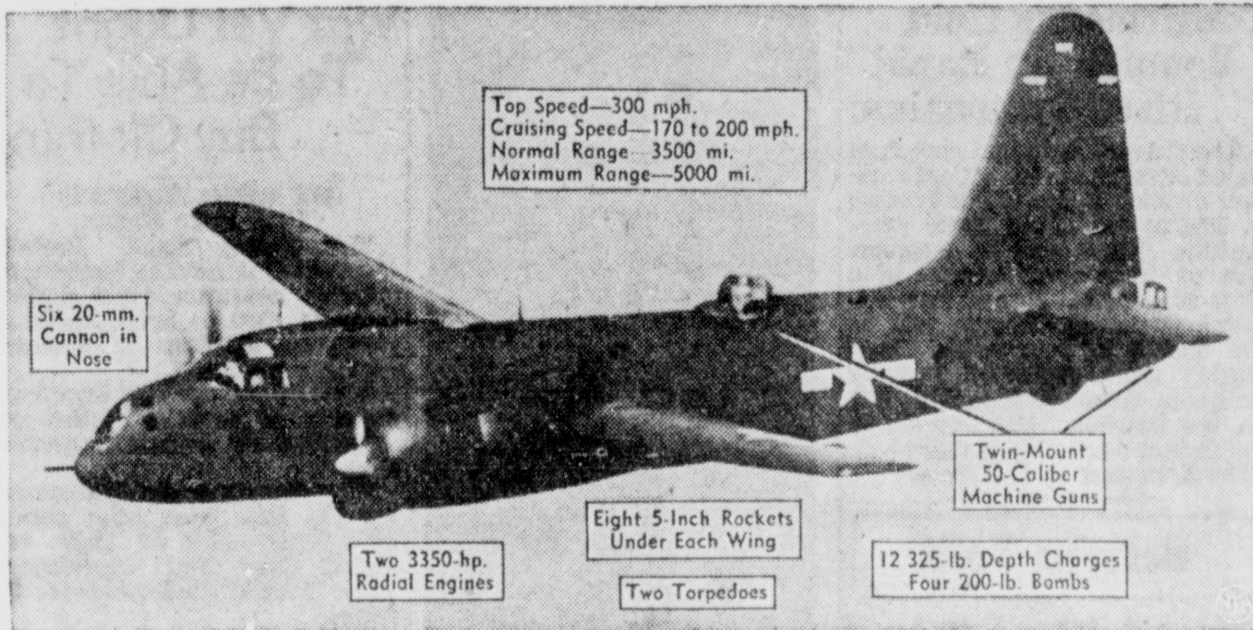

Concord, N. H. (P)—A bushel of grasshoppers—any size—will get you a one dollar bounty from the state of New Hampshire.

But if you collect that dollar, you'll be the first one to do it since 1914. In 1913-14, 313 bushels of grasshoppers were turned in for cash payoff. Since then, despite the grasshopper plague which swept central New Hampshire in 1944, nary a hopper has been felled by a bounty hunter.

Ponca City, Cares For 20,500 Trees

Ponca City, Okla. (P)—A man buzzing through city parks here on a scooter with his head bobbing from side to side had pedestrians worried until they found out what he was doing.

The man, explained city manager L. A. Cann, was counting trees because Cann wanted to know how many the city was tending.

"The count even surprised me," said Cann. "We have 20,500."

100th Praised For Battle At Bitchie

The 100th (Century) Infantry Division landed in Southern France Oct. 20, 1944, two months after the Allied invasion from the Mediterranean. The division was rushed into the line to relieve the veteran infantry divisions which had made the landings.

Crossing the Meurthe River at Baccarat, the Century men captured the important supply base at Raon L'Etape, ripped through the German defensive positions in the lower Vosges Mountains, and took Moyenvic, Senones and St. Blaise.

Swinging north toward the Maginot Line in the early winter, the 100th pointed toward the town of Bitchie built around the stronghold of Fort Schiesseck. The 100th had to fight all the way to Bitchie, against a strongly dug-in and fanatical enemy. The fort itself—a series of blockhouses built into the bare ridges—was a tough nut to crack, but the Century doughs kept punching and, despite the difficult terrain and seemingly endless German counterattacks, reduced the fort and occupied Bitchie.

For its action here, the 100th received high praise from Gen. Jacob L. Devers, then Sixth Army Group Commander. "Your great accomplishments," said the general, "forced the enemy to give up the offensive action on your front."

Later, the 100th cleaned up enemy forces in the huge Saarland pocket between the Third and Seventh Armies.

The truth about "take-home"

The demand of UAW-CIO leaders for a wage increase to "maintain wartime take-home" assumes that the wartime work week averaged 48 hours.

That is not true. In General Motors workers averaged 45.6 hours work a week. For industry as a whole the average was a little less.

The demand of UAW-CIO leaders also assumes that the postwar work week will be 40 hours.

General Motors expects to work 45 to 48 hours for a considerable period of time in order to produce enough goods to relieve shortages created during the war. Employees will be paid at the rate of time-and-a-half for hours worked over 40.

General Motors answered the UAW demand for a 30% jump in present rates with the offer of a wage increase that would have averaged 13 1/2 cents an hour. This would have made the average wage increase since January 1941 at least equal to the increase in the cost of living.

A GM worker who earned $56.93 for a 45.6-hour week during the war would have received $63.44, under the GM postwar offer, for working the same number of hours.

This offer, aimed to increase wartime take-home pay by at least 10%, was rejected by UAW leaders.

Former Escanaban Dies In California

Word was received here of the death of Leo Dumouchelle, 49, former Escanaban, who died on Christmas Day at his home in San Bernardino, Calif. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dumouchelle, and his sister, Mrs. O. W. Gustafson, are residents of this city.

Mr. Dumouchelle was born in Menominee, and lived here for several years. A veteran of World War I, he moved to California

War Vet Ought To Be Able To Buy Clothing

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

The Senate Small Business Committee is holding conferences with top government and clothing industry men to bring about an immediate solution of veterans' clothing problems.

Must be the senators have been listening in on some of the conversations of returned servicemen.

When two or more of them meet for the first time after getting back home—what do they talk about? Their war experiences? Their travels? Their plans for the future?

Well, not at first. Joe looks Bill over and says, "Not a bad looking suit, where did you get it?"

And Bill either admits it was one he had before the war—which is why it fits a trifle snugly—or boasts that he has an old friend in the clothing business who took care of him.

Then the talk shifts to shirts—and do you know where you can get any white ones?

And then the men get down to talking about shorts and undershirts. The veterans are as absorbed in clothes talk as women ever were.

And no wonder. They knew just what kind of clothes they wanted when they put their uniforms away in moth balls and started their civilian shopping.

But what they planned to buy about fifteen years ago for his health. He is also survived by his wife and six children.

and what they are getting are: the same things at all.

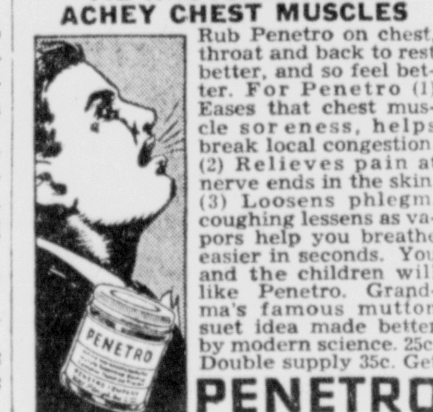

And that's a pity. For the man who takes off a uniform he has worn proudly ought to be able to find at least one new suit in which he feels right. And he ought to be able to stock up on white shirts after years of wearing brown ones. He ought to be able to buy as good a wardrobe as the man who has worn civilian clothes throughout the war has, since he is going to be in competition with him.

But he can't. And while he is pretty good-natured about it, still something ought to be done. When he has earned his right to wear civilian clothes—he ought to be able to find some to wear.

How Well Has General Electric Met These Objectives?

HIGHER WAGES

Here's how General Electric's increased production and efficiency have affected G-E workers. Average hourly earnings for men, not including overtime pay, have gone up as follows:

1935	$.72
193673
193781
193987
193986
194085
194189
194296
1943	1.05
1944	1.09
1945 (Sept.)	1.09

Overtime pay gave G-E workers more on top of this. G.E. has made jobs for nearly three times as many. 55,766 worked for G.E. ten years ago. 145,000 have jobs today, and at much higher pay.

LOWER PRICES

G.E. has an obligation to a second group of people—the public. The public wants improved products at fair prices.

"More goods for more people at less cost"—G.E.'s goal—is not a part-time assignment. It is a job for management and worker alike if G. E. is to keep growing, keep raising wages, keep making jobs for more workers.

A few figures show typical price decreases:

Refrigerator	1935	$199.00
		1941	129.95
Lamp	1935	.15
		1945	.10
			(PLUS TAX)
Transformer	1935	76.32
		1941	69.30
Motor	1935	12.80
		1941	8.50
Radio	1935	47.50
		1941	27.95

FAIR
PROFITS

G.E. during the war earned 4.7¢ on each dollar of sales. Of this, 4.1¢ was paid to its more than 200,000 stockholders, and the remaining six-tenths of a cent on each dollar was retained in the business to assist in carrying on and expanding its operations.

All money earned over this 4.7¢ was turned back to the U. S. Government. G-E cost-saving methods had made war goods for less money than the Government expected.

These dividends have been paid per share of common stock since 1935:

1935	$.70
1936	1.50
1937	2.20
193890
1939	1.40
1940	1.85
1941	1.75
1942	1.40
1943	1.40
1944	1.40
1945	1.60

GENERAL ELECTRIC'S OBJECTIVE is to keep prices moving downward, keep wages going up, and to earn a fair profit. This calls for volume production, more efficient work and methods. With the help of every single employee, General Electric believes it can show our country, as it did in wartime, an example of American enterprise at its best.

PENINSULA HIT BY SNOWSTORM

Two Persons Injured
In Traffic Mishaps;
All Roads Open

Snowfall ranging from six inches in Iron county to a reported 24 inches in Mackinac county hit the Upper Peninsula on Christmas Day, but all highways were reported open yesterday and wheel traffic was moving normally except on some side roads.

In Delta county and Escanaba the snowfall was about seven inches, and indirectly was the cause of several traffic mishaps. The strong north wind drove newly formed ice out of portions of Little and Big Bays de Noc, but no loss of fishing equipment was reported.

Two persons were injured, one seriously, in traffic mishaps in Escanaba.

Brother, Sister Hurt

Miss Irene Larson, 908 Montana avenue, Gladstone, suffered a severe fracture of the pelvis in two places, and her brother, Clifford, a shoulder fracture when the car driven by Clifford skidded and hit the rear of a parked car owned by Magnus Logan, 517 South 15th street. The accident occurred at 11:06 p. m. Dec. 25 at Fifteenth Avenue North and Washington avenue. Miss Larson's condition was described as serious but not critical.

Four cars were involved in two accidents on US 2-41 west of the city shortly after midnight Christmas Day. In the first collision a car driven by Harland C. Dahl, Bark River, collided with a parked car owned by Frank Gudger, Perkins, and driven by his son, Marvin, 16, it was reported by the sheriff's department. Shortly after the accident Helmer Stacy, 1013 Fourth Avenue South, collided with the rear of a car driven by Frank J. Stoykovich of Wells, who was being flagged to a stop at the accident scene. No one was injured.

Number of Accidents

In other mishaps in Escanaba on Christmas Day, cars collided at the following times and places: Third Avenue North and Stephenson, 2:03 p. m., Harold H. Robitaille, 213 Stephenson avenue, and Carl F. Harbath, Gladstone, R. Wickman, Harry D. Brackett, Archie Wood, who distributed the baskets; and three Boy Scouts, John Kuchenberg, Jack Farrell and W. Tolman.

Route 1.

Seventeenth street and Fifth Avenue South, 12:26 p. m., John Clairmont, 1511 Third Avenue South, and Emil Curtis, 612 South 16th street.

Tenth street and First Avenue South, 10:15 p. m., Wilbur Miller, 801 First Avenue South, and Mary Bisdee, Escanaba.

Yesterday police reported the collision of cars driven by Barney McGovern, 106 North 15th street, and Dwight Meyers, 1527 North 18th street, at 2:46 a. m. at Third Avenue North and Stephenson.

Police also reported that 28 motorists had their cars ticketed for overtime parking on city streets. The no-parking ordinance prohibits parking between 2:30 and 7 a. m. so that snowplows may operate. All of the motorists must report to police headquarters, although they will be released after a warning.

City and county road crews worked Christmas Day and night keeping streets and highways cleared of snow, which was whipped into drifts by the strong wind.

The wind broke up ice on Little Bay de Noc as far north as Sand Point at Escanaba. Gill nets which had been set by boat fishermen before the freeze-up may have been lost, although it is expected they can be recovered. Unless the ice forms soon, fishermen will make an attempt to recover them by going out with small boats, since the fish tugs are frozen in and laid up for the winter.

Whether the ice in Big Bay de Noc carried out equipment of ice fishermen had not been reported yesterday, although local fishermen said that if the break-up was extensive it was expected that some equipment would be lost by Garden Peninsula fishermen.

Gestapo Killed Polish Savants

Warsaw, Poland—Twenty-three of Poland's greatest mathematicians were killed by the Gestapo during the Nazi occupation of this country.

An investigator for the University of Warsaw, which, like 17,000 other homes and buildings, was burned and blown up by the Nazis after the 1944 insurrection, said the mathematicians were slain simply because they were men of learning or were of the Jewish race.

The investigator's report said "in the domain of all other sciences in Poland, the situation is analogous—Poland lost her best under the Nazi occupation."

It is estimated that there are 752,000 school teachers in the United States.

City Recreation Center Has Program Schedule Listed

Over two hundred children attended the Christmas program given Monday afternoon at the recreation center.

On the afternoon's program was a performance by Richard Oslund, Escanaba's boy magician, who was assisted by his sister, Mary. Three reels of sound cartoons were shown, and a group of Girl Scouts sang several Christmas carols. The Girl Scouts also led the children in a few Christmas songs and as they were singing "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" Santa appeared on the stage. He talked with the children and as they left the building he gave each child a sack of candy and peanuts.

Santa then made a trip in his sleigh up and down Ludington street.

During the school holiday vacation the recreation building will be open from 2 to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday. The Saturday morning sessions remain the same, from 10 a. m. to 12 noon, and the evening sessions are the same, 7 to 10 o'clock, Monday through Friday. On Thursday nights from 9 to 12 o'clock the oldtimers dances are held.

A schedule for the recreation center will be published next week with a few changes, and this schedule will be in effect until spring. Some additions to the recreation center program will be an adult archery class, boxing, and volleyball for men and women. Those interested are asked to watch the Daily Press for meeting times.

HOLIDAY BRIDE—Miss Ruth M. Lokke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lokke of Menominee, became the bride of Edward M. Hirn, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward M. Hirn, 1121 Fifth Avenue south.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums and silvered evergreens flanked the sanctuary gate, and poinsettias and white chrysanthemums decorated the candle-light altar, where the couple exchanged vows before the Rev. Fr. Alphonse Wilberding.

The bride wore a dressmaker suit of royal blue, and a black half-hat embroidered with chenille and beads in complimentary shades. She carried a white prayer book, on the cover of which was a cluster of American Beauty roses with white satin streamers.

Mrs. K. Trevor Sawyer, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a gold dressmaker suit, a black half-hat with pearl and sequin trim, and black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white roses.

William Hirn attended his brother as best man.

Music of the mass was sung by the St. Joseph choir, with Miss Eva Cosette as organist. Soloists were Mrs. John Cass, Frank Hirn, Miss Clarice Gleich, Miss Mildred Hirn and Earl Owen.

Mrs. Lokke wore for the wedding a dress of black crepe with sequin trim, a black hat and accessories, and a gardenia corsage. Mrs. Hirn wore plum-colored crepe with harmonizing accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Breakfast was served to 75 guests at the House of Ludington at noon. The table at which the bride and groom were seated was flanked by white taper and bowls of white pompons.

A 5 p. m. reception for 150 guests was held in the Hirn home, where poinsettia plants were arranged throughout the rooms. A buffet supper was served from a table centered with a wedding cake and lighted by white tapers.

In the evening, the young couple left for a short wedding trip, returning to spend Christmas with Mr. Hirn's parents. They will visit in Menominee this week with Mrs. Hirn's parents.

After the holidays, they will reside in Ann Arbor, where the bridegroom, who was recently discharged from the Army Air Force after serving for 11 months in the European theater will resume his studies at the University of Michigan School of Dentistry. His bride is a graduate of Miss Brown's school in Milwaukee.

Guests from Marinette and Menominee who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lokke, Mrs. K. Trevor Sawyer, Miss Patricia Bresnahan, Cpl. Sally Sawyer, Mrs. Richard Sawyer, Miss Olive St. Peter, Miss Mary Hamilton, Miss Elizabeth Laursen, Ensign John Laursen, Robert Pope, Ray Hansen, Miss Joan and Miss Roberta Stoppenbach, Miss Joan Henes, Miss Barbara McCormick, Miss Elizabeth Jones, Miss Marilyn Byrum and Roger Conant.

Glamorous Turbans Are Borrowed From Far East

New York—The turban that brightens your mid-season outfit looks returns for style cues to its point of origin—the Far East, where it's still the headdress of Indian princes, Arab chieftains, and Balinese beauties.

To make those that go to your head as glamorous, designer Mary Goodfellow searched for original fabrics to put her ideas across. As rich as a rajah are the new brilliant patterns by leading fabric designers. They are handblocked on wool challis and pure silk.

Proof that fabric weds silhouette in perfect amity are the two turbans shown. The turban at right with arm-climbers to match, is made of Mexican wool challis in a design of leaf green on lacquer red. Derived from the authentic headdress of a Balinese dancer is a turban of pure silk left, made up in a Brooks Cadwallader print of white and green morning glories on a background of Chinese gold.

Fruit Desserts
Trim Waistlines

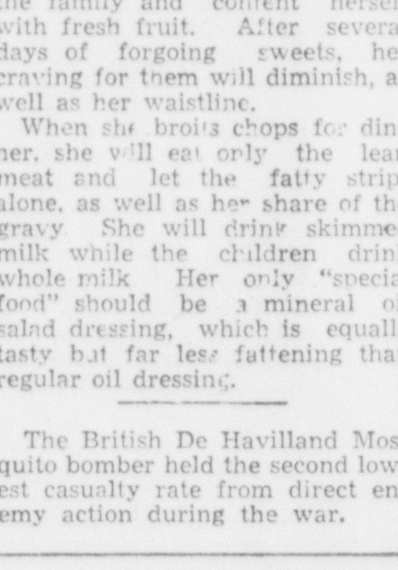

How often have you heard a chubby friend say, "I'd like to diet, but I have my husband and the children to cook for and I don't have time to cook special meals for myself?" Well she's either kidding herself, or she has the wrong idea of diet.

Dieting to reduce doesn't mean a lamb chop and a lettuce leaf at every meal. It also means cutting down the intake of certain foods. The busy housewife who is interested in shedding a few pounds will serve dessert to the rest of the family and content herself with fresh fruit. After several days of forgoing sweets, her craving for them will diminish, as well as her waistline.

When she broils chops for dinner, she will eat only the lean meat and let the fatty strips alone, as well as her share of the gravy. She will drink skimmed milk while the children drink whole milk. Her only "special food" should be a mineral oil salad dressing, which is equally tasty but far less fattening than regular oil dressing.

Miss Hammerberg,
Robert Tonn, Wed
In Escanaba

Miss Isabel Hammerberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hammerberg, became the bride of Robert Tonn, son of Mrs. Mabel Tonn of Marquette, in a beautiful ceremony at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, Dec. 22, at the Salem Evangelical Lutheran church.

Before an altar decorated with poinsettias, the couple were united in marriage by the Rev. William F. Lutz.

Miss Helen Lutz played the processional and recessional organ music and Miss Betty McNaughton sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied by Miss Marion Ralston of Detroit.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white broadcloth, styled with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, the skirt extending in a train. She wore a fingertip veil, and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums and snapdragons. Her jewelry was a floral clasp with matching earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Matron of honor, a close friend of the bride, was Mrs. Gordon Niessner of Waseca, Minn. Her dress was of blue taffeta with a blue net overskirt. She carried a floral bouquet of chrysanthemums and snapdragons.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Dan Garbe, who wore pink taffeta with a pink net overskirt and Mrs. Theodore Makosky, who wore a dress of pink net. Both carried pink floral bouquets of chrysanthemums and snapdragons.

Delores Makosky was train bearer.

William Devonshire attended the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Paul J. Young and Theodore Makosky.

Following the ceremony a supper was served to 74 guests at Unity hall. Later a reception was held for 150 guests.

The couple left later for a wedding trip to Milwaukee.

The bride is a graduate of Escanaba high school and Northern Michigan College of Education. She is a member of Phi Kappa Nu sorority. Before her marriage, Mrs. Tonn was a teacher in the Bark River schools.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Marquette high school. He was recently discharged from service after four years and eight months of duty, serving two years and eight months in the Pacific theater. He is employed by the Holland Furnace company of Marquette.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Mabel Tonn, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scope, Gerald and Carol Havican, Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeRoche, Mr. and Mrs. William Devonshire, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Young of Marquette; Miss Marion Ralston, Detroit; Miss Gwendolyn Bagley, Wilson; Miss Betty McNaughton, Bark River; Mrs. G. Niessner, Waseca, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. John Cota, Garden; Mr. and Mrs. William Drause and David and Marie, Robert Makosky and family, Bark River, Route 1; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Young, Miss Marcella Young, Glaston; Barbara, Carl, Lillian, Emily and Robert Makosky, Danforth; Mr. and

Spent Three Days In Forest Camp Near Stutts Creek

Members of the Rotary sponsored Boy Scout Troop 401 spent three days and two nights at the camp of Dr. T. R. Southard, located in a wilderness region in the vicinity of Stutts Creek, the three days preceding Christmas, and under the guidance of Scoutmaster Ben Karowski had the time of their young lives. Thirteen Scouts participated in the outing.

Activities of each day included skiing, hiking, tracking animals and exploring the nearby woods. The favorite game of the Scouts was having one patrol pack track the other through the moonlit forest. Some of the Scouts experienced the feeling of having the compass point in the wrong direction. Luckily for them other Scouts established contact and showed them the way to camp.

All planning was done by the Scouts. Troop Scribe Don Foye and Bill Mueller planned the food supply and supervised the Scouts in their work; Don Lancour, Bob Carlson, Iggy Babladelis, Howard Hartman and Gerald Nelson kept the camp supplied with wood; Mike Shaw, John Reque, Harold Feiner and George Babladelis kept the camp in order and washed dishes, and Henry Gray was first assistant to Chief Cook Van Eyck. While at camp Tenderloin Henry Gray, John Reque, Gerald Nelson and George Babladelis passed second class tests in tracking, knife and hatchet handling, fire building and cooking.

Visitors at the camp during the outing were Dr. T. R. Southard, Kenneth Van Eyck, Gordon Denny and Thor Reque. Several of the visitors stayed for lunch and pronounced it good.

Although the Scouts had a whale of a time, each was willing to break camp on the day before Christmas as uncrowded beds, Christmas gifts and mother's cooking had great appeal at that time.

GARDEN MATRON
IS SUMMONED

Mrs. Victoria Reno Is Suddenly Stricken Tuesday Morning

Mrs. Victoria Reno, 58, a resident of Garden for the past forty years, died Tuesday morning at St. Vincent's hospital in Green Bay, where she had been a patient for several weeks. She had made such good progress that members of her family were on the way to the hospital to take her home for Christmas, when the end came.

Mrs. Reno was born in Rapid River on September 20, 1887 and following her marriage to Jerry Reno, 39 years ago, moved to the Garden vicinity, where she lived ever since. She was a member of the St. John the Baptist Catholic church.

Surviving her are her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Gordon McPhee, Garden; Mrs. Arnold Cousineau, Manistique; and Miss Jacqueline Reno, at home; five sons, Isadore, Vernon, Merton, Traceford of Manistique, and Percy, in the navy; three sisters, Mrs. Frances LaPointe, Gladstone; Mrs. Clara Clairmont, Escanaba; Mrs. Della Rushford, Gould City; two brothers, John A. LaRose, Gulliver, and Frank LaRose, Milwaukee; also 21 grandchildren.

The date of the funeral has not been definitely set as word is being awaited from the son in the navy, but it will be either Friday or Saturday morning at the St. John the Baptist church in Garden with the Rev. Fr. Pelky officiating at the funeral mass. Burial will be in the Garden of Rest cemetery at Garden.

The body is now at the family residence.

Roads Kept Open — Few
Stalled Motorists
—No Accidents

The "White Christmas," which according to a certain popular song was productive of nostalgic musings on the part of the boys in the service, arrived on schedule to help make many a returned youth's Christmas "merry and bright."

Early Christmas morning brought a heavy fall of the white snow in this area and the fall continued throughout the day, causing many a Christmas party to be speeded up and also forcing the absence of guests who had planned to be present.

However, thanks to the conscientious efforts of the county highway crews, the roads were kept open and cases of stalled motorists were very few in this area. About thirty employees of the county highway department denied themselves the pleasure of spending the holiday in their homes in order to maintain this service.

State police reported but one motor mishap over Christmas and that was a minor one. Acel Eckley, Manistique Rd. 2, home on leave from the navy, lost control of his car and it left the road. The car suffered some damage, but he was unhurt.

Services in all of the local churches were favored with overflow attendance.

Though Christmas, in a strict sense, is over, the season of informal parties and home gatherings has just begun.

The good things of the season have been generously shared with those who, without help of some sort would have spent a gloomy Christmas. Through the welfare committee of the Manistique Women's club, 26 baskets of food were distributed to families in this area at the suggestion of the county welfare board. Supplementing the food were also gifts of clothing, shoes, toys and candy.

Assisting in the work of good will were many who made sizeable gifts of money earmarked for specific cases. One of these donors gave $30 to be spent for shoes for children in a certain district and another gave $25 to help accomplish a certain benevolence.

Through the good offices of E. L. LeDuc, providing a children's matinee to which the admission price was some canned article, 400 cans of food of various types was collected and donated to the cause sponsored by the Women's club.

Skating Rinks,
Now In Service
Well Patronized

Encouraged by the popularity of the three city-maintained skating rinks recently put in service, the city is now providing a fourth at the corner of Deer and Fifth streets on a vacant lot owned by William Sine.

At present there is a large rink at the football stadium and two smaller ones at Park avenue and the site of the Hiawatha Hotel on Mackinaw street in West Manistique. A warming room, where skaters may put on or take off their skates, is provided at the stadium. Caretakers are also in charge there. There are no warming sheds or caretakers at the other rinks.

On Saturdays and Sundays the rinks will be open to the public between the hours of 1 and 5 in the afternoon and 7 and 9:45 in the evening. On school days, however, the rinks will be open until 2:30 in the afternoon and will remain open until 5:30. Evening hours will be the same for both Sundays and week days.

EMPSONSONS AGAIN
GIVE FREE SHOW

Children's Holiday Party
At Rialto Theatre
Today

The Empson Insurance Agency is again playing host to children of Gladstone and vicinity at a free holiday matinee at the Rialto theater this afternoon. The show is to begin at 2 o'clock.

"Henry Aldrich for President," one of the well-known Henry Aldrich stories, will be the feature picture. There will also be a number of color cartoons or short subjects.

The free holiday matinees were started in 1930 by the late G. Raymond Empson and were continued without interruption until 1943 when because of an infantile paralysis epidemic it was believed best not to have children congregating in large numbers. The matinee was renewed last year and today's will be the 14th of the series.

Because it taxes the capacity of the theater to accommodate all of the children who turn out for the show its sponsors are forced to deny admittance to adults.

All children, regardless of age, will be safe, for Legionnaires and ex-servicemen will be on hand to keep order and prevent crowding among the children. Thus parents are assured they may send their children to the show without worry that one of them will be hurt in the crowd.

SCOUTS WILL
SKI AT PARK

Over 100 Boys To Attend
Party At Days River
Today

All Boy Scouts and some of the Cubs of Gladstone will ski at the Sports Park at the Rays River today.

Scouts attending will assemble at the old city hall not later than 10 o'clock this morning and a large truck will transport them to the park. Those desiring may ski cross country.

Scouts will bring their own dinners, but the evening meal will be provided by a group of Scouters headed by Oscar Ohman.

Two tows will be in operation at the park all day for the Scouts and the clubhouse will be heated and open for the convenience of the Scouts throughout the day.

Activities will include games on the ski skills and slalom courses will be set up to give the boys some practice for coming events at the winter carnival.

Entertainment at the supper hour will be in the form of accordion selections, sleight of hand artistry and group singing.

Indications at present point to a very good attendance at the ski frolic with well over one hundred desiring to take part in the day's fun. This will include Scouts and Scouters from Nahma, Rapid River, the three Scout troops from this city, also all of the Cub Packs, Scouters and committeemen. An invitation is also extended to any of the boys home from service or home on furlough during the holiday who were previously Scouts to put on a pair of skis and join the fun.

Cub Leader George Strong, Scoutmasters Hamilton, Mackie, and Meyer of this city and Scoutmasters and Scouters from Nahma and Rapid River will be in attendance and in charge, for the day.

Evening program will be in charge of C. E. Hawkins, O. A. Ohman, W. Cameron with various committeemen assisting.

Briefly Told

Choirs Rehearse — The youth choir of the First Lutheran church will meet this afternoon at 2 for practice. This evening at 7 o'clock all three choirs of the church will meet to rehearse for the candlelight service to be held on Sunday.

Ladies' Aid—The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church is to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the home of Mrs. Iver Ogren.

Yule Party—The Woman's Department of the Latter Day Saints' church will have a Christmas party this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Stowe, 1307 Dakota avenue. Husband of members will be guests.

Boy Scout Frolic
At Ski Club Today

The annual Boy Scout Frolic will be held at the Gladstone Ski club today with boys from Gladstone, Rapid River, Nahma and Garden participating. The program will start at 10:30 a. m.

Skiing will be enjoyed in the morning and afternoon. Court of honor will be held at the clubhouse at 4 p. m., and a dinner will follow. The Scouts are asked to bring their noon lunch. The evening meal will be furnished.

LIONS TO FIGHT SINKWICH DEAL

New All-American Loop Reported Dickering For Backfield Ace

Detroit, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Detroit Lions of the National Football League said today they "would go into court" if the newly-formed All-American Conference attempted to sign the Lions' backfield ace, Frankie Sinkwich, to a 1946 contract.

Sinkwich, recently discharged from the army, reportedly has been contacted by representatives of the new league. A Lions spokesman said today he had heard such rumors, but added that Sinkwich's contract has another year to run.

The Lions said they "would go into court to prove the validity of the contract" if the All-American Conference attempted to sign the former Lions star back in 1946. The National pro leaguers said Sinkwich signed a two-year contract in 1944 and that one year of it remained to be fulfilled since their triple threat ace had spent the past season in the army.

Sinkwich recently indicated he might quit pro football. Coach Gus Dorais, of the Lions, expects to confer with him after the new year.

The Lions today announced the signing of Elmer (Tip) Madarik for 1946. Madarik, former half-back of the University of Detroit and who played with Army Air Force teams in 1944 and 1945, performed for the Lions in the latter part of the 1945 season.

Redskins To Trade Filchock To Giants

BY BUS HAM

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—Frankie Filchock's six-year wish—to be No. 1 quarterback on a big-league professional football team—is nearing realization.

The Washington Redskins plan to trade Filchock, one of the game's better passers, to the New York Giants. In return, they want two players still in the army—Tommy Mont, a back, and Paul Stenn, a tackle.

Redskin officials declined to comment on the trade, but it was learned that as soon as Mont and Stenn indicate they are willing to play with the tribe, the deal will be closed. Mont formerly played at Maryland University. Stenn starred for March Field in the Army Air Forces league.

Reports have been current that Filchock might jump to the New York Yankees of the All-American Conference, which makes its start next season.

The Sports Parade

The Escanaba Figure Skating club, which has done such an outstanding job in developing interest in figure skating locally, apparently is headed for another banner season. At least it has made an auspicious start in securing for its director this winter a well known professional, Mrs. Jeannette LeCaptain, who will arrive in Escanaba in mid-January from Dallas, Texas, where she is currently engaged in an ice show. Because of the efforts of the Figure Skating club, Escanaba has developed more talented skaters than any community of its size in Michigan. The club's annual ice revue, in fact, is an event that would tickle the pride of any community, regardless of size.

Big Buckeye Center Is Man To Stop For Michigan Cage Five

Ann Arbor, Dec. 26 (AP)—Arnold Risen, six foot, nine inch Buckeye center, will be the man to stop when the University of Michigan's cagers meet Ohio State's quintet at Columbus Saturday in the second Western Conference tilt for both schools.

Leading Big Ten center for the past two seasons, Risen is expected to use his height to advantage around the backboard as the Wolverines seek to make up for their 67 to 58 overtime defeat at the hands of Indiana last week which snapped a five game winning streak.

Without Risen, Ohio's cagers average six-two and boast a couple of capable hoopsters in Guard Paul Huston and Forward Bob Bowen, a 1943-44 regular.

Michigan State College is slated to tangle with Ohio State at Columbus Thursday night. The Buckeyes dropped a 47 to 45 decision to Wright Field and beat Pittsburgh 47 to 37 in earlier non-conference games.

Ohio trounced Michigan twice last season and won 10 of 12 contests to snatch second place in the conference. Saturday's game will send one of the two teams into the lead in series competition as each has won 22 tilts in the 44 times they have met. Of the 12 Wolverines expected to make the trip those expected to start against the Buckeyes are: Bob Harrison and John Mullaney, forwards; Glenn Selbo, center, and Pete Elliott and Dave Strack, guards; Selbo, a Lacrosse, Wis., Navy trainee loomed in 10 field goals against Indiana last week to take scoring honors.

vides the perfect example of what can be accomplished when a group of persons band together to promote an activity in which they have a mutual interest. The club is strictly a local affair. Its single purpose is to develop local figure skating talent. As a result of its activity, large numbers of Escanaba people, young and old, have learned the enjoyment of grace and skill on ice. The program is paying big dividends, as evidenced by the fact that each year brings forth new local stars on the steel blades. Two local lads have used their training to make a career of figure skating in addition to Miss Marjorie Davies, who directed the Ice Revue of 1945.

The ice revue is a means to an end. The objective is to stimulate interest in figure skating. The revue provides the stimulus, an opportunity for the youngsters who devote many hours in tedious practice to show the extent of their progress and development in the intricacies of the art of figure skating. The ice show of 1945 was so expertly presented that hundreds of persons who saw it were awed by the spectacle of such a high quality of performance by talent that was 100 per cent local. It was a grand tribute to the fine work being accomplished by the Escanaba Figure Skating club.

The Escanaba Department of Recreation works in close cooperation with the figure skating club, as it does with all other organization devoted to the promotion of recreational activities in the community. The recreation department, in fact, underwrites the expense of securing a qualified director for the club and assists in the development of facilities required for the program. In this manner, both the recreation department and the figure skating club profits by achieving a mutual objective. Operating independently, it would be impossible to reach the success that has been attained by a policy that provides assistance to each other.

KAZOO EX-COACH DIES

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 26 (AP)—Charles Cloud Hall, 70, coach of Kalamazoo College football teams which won Michigan Interscholastic Athletic Association championships in 1897 and 1898 and co-founder of the Durametallic Corp., died at his home here today. Coach of the first Kalamazoo high school football team, organized in 1913, he remained active in athletics until an attack of coronary thrombosis seven years ago.

East-West Players Get Clear Weather, Just For A Change

San Francisco, Dec. 26 (AP)—Clear weather for a change today greeted eastern football players training at Santa Clara for the East-West charity game here New Year's Day. Coach Andy Kerr and his associates, Bernie Bierman and Beattie Feathers, took advantage of the dry spell to order secret practice.

The easterners were sent through play formations, passing and running both off the T-formation and the double wing, morning and afternoon workouts totaling five hours.

The East got back two casualties, Bob Dohelstein, guard from Tennessee, who had been laid up with a cold and Mike Prashaw, tackle from Michigan, who had been sidelined from recurrence of an old leg injury.

Two centers, Frank Snidack, Columbia, and Bronco Kasonovich, Penn State, were staging the closest fight for a single position.

The western squad, training at Menlo Junior College, went through stiff training under Coaches Homer Norton and Orin Hollingbery.

Peterson To Direct Basketball League

The city basketball league will be directed this season by Art Peterson, of the city recreation department staff, who was in charge of the program in other years, George Grenholm, director, has announced. Peterson also will direct a city volleyball league here. A meeting of managers of the basketball league is scheduled for Jan. 3 at the junior high school gymnasium.

Jeweler Is Proud Of Whopper Lemon

Thompsonville, Mass. (AP)—Wallace Marek, a jeweler, picked a lemon during a recent blizzard—and is proud of it. It grew on a tree he brought from Florida last year. "I moved it indoors when it turned frosty," he said, "and it's now three and a half feet high. The lemon I picked was a whopper nearly five inches in diameter."

Hunting And Fishing

THE GAME WARDEN AND THE STATE

Every time I hear a man say, "That warden would pinch his own brother," it is not much of a recommendation to me. I'd rather hear them say, "While that man would pinch his own brother, he is also a good man for fish, game and the sportsman in his area."

The states of Michigan and Pennsylvania recognize the fact that there is much more than just making arrests, to qualify a man for a warden's job. They realize that the game warden is the closest man to the public, to fish, game and recreation, of any man in the entire conservation department.

They realize that the divisions of conservation, forest and parks, cooperative forestry, forest protection (fire fighting and illegal cutting of timber), fish management, game management and information and education have not the direct contact with the public as have the men of the law enforcement division.

They know that the law enforcement division is misnamed, the division in which the wardens are placed, I'd like to see this name changed to the SPORTSMEN'S division for it is to the local warden that we make our big cry when we feel that our rights are abused by the legislature or the conservation commission.

In the previous article we informed our readers of some of the many duties expected of the game wardens. This means that the old school of educating the warden on preparing his cases, how to testify and to draw up legal papers, how to make arrests and conduct himself in court, will be but one class in Michigan and Pennsylvania.

The wardens there will go to school each year. Meeting in one central place, they will learn more about fish and water, more about animals and birds. They will be able to hand in reports as to the food and cover for all fish, deer, ducks, all wild things of our woods and waters.

These reports will be cleared at central headquarters and should be welcomed by each division to which they may apply. Then the specialists of that division will come in and correct a situation which may be within their power and ability.

Give any one state five years time in training their field men, the wardens, how to look at the country and what to look for as they make their rounds and we shall see a big improvement. Give them a stenographer to write their reports quickly and every warden will be of great value to all divisions.

Then, if the sportsmen will quit yelling for more and more laws and look at the land, the waters, the game, it's food and behavior, the states of Michigan and Pennsylvania will have immediate contact with the sportsmen. The wardens will make this possible if we, too, use our rod and gun club committees to work with them.

Bomb Expert Now Sewer Constructor

Baltimore, (AP)—Ex-Sergeant William J. Piccirilli, who, while in the South Pacific, won the Legion of Merit for inventing a bomb-fuse tester, has turned his talents to the quieter civilian occupation of sewer construction. The fuse tester which won Piccirilli the citation was only one of three devices he invented for the Army. His solution was an air-pressure device which simulated the pressure of water which explodes bombs dropped by anti-submarine patrols.

His second invention was a "selective arming" device which enabled pilots to select the depth at which they wanted their sub-busters to explode.

Bombs which burst prematurely while still in the air brought about his third innovation. He attached a weighted silk cord to the bomb fuse. As long as the weight kept the cord taut, the fuse was inoperative. When the weight touched the ground and the cord slackened, it was time to start ticking.

He could patent the last invention, Piccirilli says, "If I could find a civilian use for it." He will welcome all other suggestions—if they can be used in the sewer construction business.

Jerome Deloria Will Head Fight Training Center In Escanaba

A boxing training center for Delta county entries in the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves tournament and others interested in boxing will be established at the city recreation building, South Fourteenth street, this week, George Grenholm, city recreation director, has announced.

Jerome Deloria, well known former boxer and city recreational leader, will be in charge of the training class. The training ring and other equipment will be installed by Wednesday, Jan. 2, but boxers desiring to enter training before that time will be privileged to use the recreation facilities this week.

The training center will be available from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock daily under the direction of Deloria. If there is sufficient demand for an evening training class, this will be arranged after Jan. 2, Grenholm indicated.

There are approximately 30 local fighters who have indicated a desire to enter the Golden Gloves tournament in Escanaba on Feb. 4 and 5, with prospects for a larger local entry list after the training center is established.

Texas Holds Edge On Experience For Cotton Bowl Game

Austin, Tex., Dec. 26 (AP)—If bowl experience means anything, Texas has it all over Missouri in their approaching battle at Dallas in the Cotton Bowl.

The Longhorns boast five bowl veterans, all of them with post-season experience in the Dallas saucer. One of them goes back as far as Jan. 1, 1943, when the Texans met Georgia Tech.

Ed Heap was one of two freshmen selected to join the varsity after first-year men were made eligible in December, 1942. He appeared briefly in Texas' 14-7 victory, Heap, a substitute guard, recently was discharged from the Army Air Forces and is back with Texas.

In 1944 Texas went to the Cotton Bowl against Randolph Field and, in cold rain and on a slippery gridiron, soon found itself trailing the Ramblers 0-7. The Longhorns tied it up on a pass and the game ended 7-7. On the throwing end of that important 35-yard play was Ralph Ellsworth, starting Texas tailback then and now. The San Antonio speedster sandwiched a year at the U. S. naval academy between championship seasons at Texas.

Jim Plyler and Harlan Wetz, massive Texas tackles, have played together for three seasons. Plyler started against Randolph Field; Wetz was used as a substitute guard in the 1944 bowl game.

The other Longhorn with previous Cotton Bowl experience is Ransom Jackson. But he was with another team. A naval trainee, who started his schooling at Arkansas University, he moved to Texas Christian in time to help kick the horned frogs to the Southwest Conference title then lose 34-0 to Oklahoma A. and M. in the 1945 Cotton Bowl.

Missouri doesn't have anyone on the squad who ever appeared in a bowl game.

Ned Day's Curve

BY NED DAY

Five-Time Mat-Game Champ
Usually executed by a slowball bowler, the curve is more effective on a highly-polished alley.

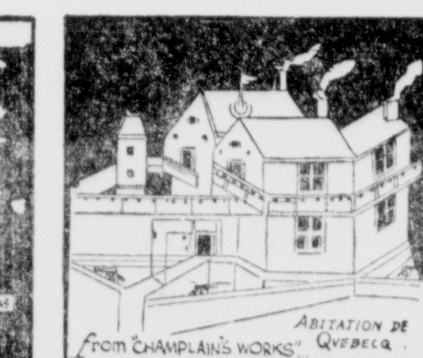

This type of ball must be played from nearer the center of the alley than the hook, and rolled toward the gutter, allowing the ball to curve into the one-three pocket.

This is done by holding the ball with the wrist turned slightly in thus bringing the hand partially under the ball and spinning it from right to left, using both the turn of the wrist and the fingers to impart a tremendous turn.

This turning causes the ball to travel slower than the straight or hook ball, but the added spin is more effective in mixing up the pins and gathering strikes.

It has been found that city women marry at a later age than rural women.

PRICES BID UP AFTER LAYOFF

BY HUDSON PHILLIPS

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—Stock market customers returned today after a three-day Christmas Koff and bid up prices of a majority of leaders fractions to around 3 points.

Motorists were heavily in demand after representatives of General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Automobile Workers resumed their talks in seeking an end to the five-week-old strike.

Other favorites appeared in steels, rails, utilities, retail stores, metals, air-traffic and selected industrial stocks.

Some buyers were attracted because of the rather sharp downturn of last week. Year-end dividends buoyed several issues.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite rose 3 of a point to 75.8. The highest gain was in the industrial average.

Higher were general motors, Chrysler, Packard, S. Steel, Bethlehem, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Deere, Boeing, Glenn Martin, American Telephone, North American, American Water Works, Anaconda, American Smelting, American Can, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, Sylvania, Fe, Great Northern and Texas Co.

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—The bond market generally was higher today with some rails gaining two points or more.

Carriers were ahead 1 of a point on average in the Associated Press composite. The 15-year U. S. Treasury note of 3 1/2, an inactive issue, rose 11 points, and Georgia of Alabama 5 1/2 of 48 were up 4 3/4. Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern, Rock Island 4 1/2 of 48 and St. Louis Southwestern second 4 1/2 were up 2 1/2 points each, and Kansas City 3 1/2.

Among other showing gains were Central of Georgia convertible 5 1/2, Chicago & Northern Illinois convertible 5 1/2, Norfolk & Western convertible 5 1/2 and most Seaboard Air Lines, Baltimore & Ohio and Lehigh Valley lines.

Sale of U. S. government bonds, $5,330,000 compared with $4,370,000 Friday, the last full-day session before the market closed for the Christmas holiday.

Foreign government bonds were down 1 of a point on average with Cuba 4 1/2, Peru 1/2 of 59 and Rio de Janeiro 1/2 of 59.

noise and on investigating, discovered a large yellow cat wrapped around the fan. If the cat had nine lives, it lost them all in a few seconds, but it also wrecked
the car.

ISSUE NOTICES FOR DAIRY DAY

Special Invitation Sent Delta Dairymen And Their Wives

The attention of Delta county dairymen has been directed to the approaching county Dairy Day which will be held Saturday, Jan. 5, in the Coliseum at Escanaba, and a special invitation to dairy farmers and their wives to attend has been issued by E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent.

County business men also are included in the invitation list to whom letters were addressed, Wenner said.

The program for the day will start at 10 a. m. and at noon sandwiches and coffee will be served the guests without charge. The program will continue until 4 p. m.

Included in the program are exhibits, talks, movies and discussions which will be of interest to all persons connected with the dairy industry in the county. The public generally is expected to visit the Coliseum and view the exhibits. The dairy industry is Delta county's largest single cash-producing source of farm income.

The morning program will be devoted to a review and discussion, and there will be exhibits on calf raising, feeding, pastures, breeding and management, herd management, and 4-H Club dairy work. Other subjects will be quality milk, mastitis, better bulls, cooling tanks and a model grain elevator.

In the afternoon there will be a 4-H demonstration. George S. McIntyre, dairy specialist at Chatham, will present a dairy equipment washing demonstration, and Dr. C. M. Harrison will talk on "Good Dairy Pasture." A movie, "The Science of Dairy Production," also will be presented.

U. P. Briefs

ASKS FOR DONATIONS

Iron Mountain — Up to noon Monday, 146 donors had contributed $1,477.50 towards repaying $10,500 to four Iron Mountain residents who advanced this amount of money some time ago to facilitate the purchase of the former Von Platen-Fox mill site for the U. S. veterans hospital—and that is not enough money and not enough donors, according to A. M. Chalmers, chairman, and W. W. Thompson, treasurer of the hospital committee.

Most of the $1,477 collected to date is in small amounts from 50 cents to $5, and these are the subscriptions in which the committee is principally interested at the start. "It is not a question of actually getting the money," Chalmers emphasized. "We have several volunteers who will more than make up the amount, but we have been specifically told by the Veterans Administration that the community as a whole should support this project, and the administration expects to see it done."

APPOINTED SANITARIAN

Iron River—Geno Selmo, Caspian, discharged army lieutenant, has started his duties as sanitarian of the Iron-Ontonagon county health department, succeeding Ed Horschak, who resigned three months ago to accept a similar position in Ann Arbor.

Selmo recently completed two months of in-service training at Lansing conducted by the state health department. He studied food, water and milk inspection, general sanitation and allied subjects.

ALBERT J. DEMARS

American Legion rites will be conducted today at the funeral of Albert J. Demars. The services will be held at 10 a. m. at St. Ann church, with interment in St. Ann cemetery.

VARIABLE MIGRATIONS

Migration routes of birds are not all north and south. Some migrate east and west, and some merely move up and down the sides of mountains with the changing seasons.

Contest Judging To Be Before Jan. 1

The judging for the holiday outdoor decoration contest, sponsored jointly by the Escanaba Lions club and the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, will be completed before New Year's Day by a special committee dissociated with both sponsoring organizations.

Persons desiring to direct the committee to any outdoor lighting display are requested to notify the Chamber of Commerce.
